

WESTERLY PLAN—This is the plan for widening 2.3 miles of Highway 101 through San Rafael, and traffic interchange at Third and Irwin preferred by State Division of Highways. It is one of two alternates that would widen the viaduct west of the highway, but widen it to the east in the seminary-county office building area. Broken lines at interchange indicate possible freeway connections to west.

PLANS FOR SAN RAFAEL HIGHWAY JOB UNVEILED

Interchange Shown At 3rd, Irwin; None Proposed For Linden Lane

By DONALD DAVIS

State plans for widening more than two miles of Highway 101 between Puerto Suello Hill and California Park in San Rafael were shown at a semi-public meeting yesterday to San Rafael city officials.

The meeting at the State Division of Highways building in San Francisco revealed that the state has alternate plans for the expansion which would include a traffic interchange at Third and Irwin Streets. No interchange is being planned at Linden Lane or in the vicinity of the county office building on Grand Avenue. There would be a new offramp there.

The cost, according to R. A. Hayler, district engineer of District 4 of the Division of Highways, could range between $13,900,000 and $19,200,000, depending on the alternate that is finally selected.

Hayler and his assistant, C. F. Greene, did most of the talking before a small gathering of city officials. T. Fred Bagshaw, assistant state director of public works, was present.

Bagshaw hurried into the meeting just as it started, and said he had made the trip from Sacramento posthaste, starting at noon when he saw a copy of Wednesday's Independent-Journal. An article Wednesday described a presentation by Henry Schubart, Tiburon architect, who told a meeting of 300 residents of the Dominican area that the highway program might mean disaster for San Rafael.

The article was accompanied by an illustration that incorrectly showed a grade separation at the Linden lane area instead of the Third and Irwin area.

Attending the meeting yesterday from San Rafael were Mayor John F. McInnis, Councilman Louis H. Baar, City Manager Dan E. Andersen, Public Works Director Norris Rawles and City Engineer Dominic Selmi. Also attending was Frank L. Lucas, superintendent of San Rafael Schools, and Marvin W. Brigham, Marin County director of public works.

Hayler and his assistant and others in the division produced large drawings of the proposed project. Hayler said he hopes copies of them will be available for public scrutiny in Marin in two or three weeks. He said any member of the public can view them at his office prior to then.

McInnis offered the city hall.

Second Marin-S.F. Crossing Proposed

A Golden Gate Bridge director today proposed that the bridge district undertake immediate investigation of "ways and means of financing another bridge or crossing between San Francisco and Marin."

Director Peter Gasser of Napa County told fellow directors, "time is running out" and "it is just good plain business to do some serious thinking about the traffic problems of the future."

In a resolution which was referred to the directors' committee of the whole, Gasser said the general manager should be authorized to investigate a parallel Golden Gate Bridge or a crossing at another location.

He said the study should include foundations, costs, potential traffic and revenue, rapid transit facilities, approaches, and all "matters pertaining to the location and construction of another such crossing to serve the transportation and transit needs of the people of the district and the state of California."

Gasser pointed out in the resolution that traffic across the bridge is "a tremandous volume . . . never anticipated in traffic engineering surveys that were made prior to the construction of the bridge."

He said traffic would reach a total of approximately nineteen million vehicles during the current year, an "if future traffic growth continues at the same rate as now being experienced, the Golden Gate Bridge will reach a total of 25 million vehicles within the next 10 years."

Gasser said if transportation doesn't keep up with growth, "we'll stymie our development. We better get going now." He said the expected volume of traffic "will create a critical transportation problem for the people of San Francisco and Marin County in particular."

In such an investigation, Gasser promised, "public hearings should be held in San Francisco and Marin County and other places as may be deemed necessary."

The directors voted to immediately send copies of the resolution to all boards of supervisors in the six-county district. Gasser said after introduction of the resolution that he believes "a more easterly crossing would be better than a parallel span."

He said the district should consider ways of using Angel and Alcatraz Islands for such a crossing which he felt would distribute traffic better at both ends. President Dan London said he would call a meeting of the committee of the whole to discuss the resolution as soon as it is convenient.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Big Earth Mover Kills Marin Boy

A playful, curious 6-year-old boy was crushed to death yesterday afternoon as a big earth-mover was being put away for the night on a Terra Linda construction project.

The child, Granville Currie Coggs, was killed as the frantic driver of the vehicle tried to "shoo away" a group of playing children at an earth-clearing project at the end of Del Ganado Road near the Coggs home.

Young Granville was the son of Dr. and Mrs. Granville C. Coggs of 847 Pine Lane. Dr. Coggs is a radiologist at the Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco.

Driver of the huge vehicle was Levi Dale Hart, 45, of Pleasanton.

About to park his equipment for the night, Hart noted several small boys nearby. He later told the California Highway Patrol he "tried to shoo them away" without success.

Though he told them, he said, that they "might get hurt" if they didn't stay clear, the boys refused to leave and one of them asked what time it was.

Hart looked at his watch. It was 5 p.m. but in hope that he might discourage the children and start them off for home, he told them it was 5:30.

The he started to back his earth mover. Patrol investigators later found there was a considerable "blind spot" preventing him from getting a full view behind.

Suddenly some of the boys shouted that he had run over a small boy.

Julie Konkel, 11, was watching from the back fence of her home at 1001 Las Ouejas, 500 feet away. She said she saw the Coggs child start to run east in the rear of the backing vehicle.

Suit Charges Reappraisal Setup Illegal

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court today set for 2 p.m. on June 6 a hearing to determine the legality of the "cycle reappraisal" program adopted by Assessor Bert W. Broemmel.

The hearing will give the assessor a chance to reply to charges filed yesterday by a member of the Marin Taxpayers Assn. Attorney Albin Leonard Bjorklund Jr. of Sausalito filed a petition for a writ of mandate for Mrs. Mary A. Lord of 41 Harrison Avenue, Sausalito. She is a director of the taxpayers' association.

Mrs. Lord, who has properties in Sausalito and Mill Valley, contends that "cycle reappraisal," which revalues about one-fourth of the county each year, is illegal.

She contends that Assessor Broemmel's program of reappraising Southern Marin property at full value without doing the same for the rest of the county simultaneously is a violation of the state Revenue and Taxation Code. She charges she is "burdened by unequal and unfair and unjust share of property taxes" and "deprived of the rights guaranteed by the 14th Amendment."

Mrs. Lord says thousands of taxpayers in Sausalito, Bolinas, Reed, Mill Valley, and Lark-

U.S. To End All Economic Aid To Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States announced today it will cut off all economic aid to Cuba in 180 days. This would be about Dec. 1.

The State Department said President Eisenhower determined last Saturday that continued aid to Cuba would not be in the national and hemispheric interest.

It was the first major U. S. reprisal against Premier Fidel Castro's government and the first time aid has been cut off to any Latin American country.

The president acted under the Mutual Security Act of 1960 which provides that no economic aid can be given unless the president decided it is "in the national and hemispheric interest."

Current economic aid to Cuba has run between $150,000 and $200,000 a year.

The only two current aid projects are a group advising the Cuban government on air safety regulations and another group giving advice at an agricultural experiment station outside Havana.

State Department press spokesman Lincoln White said the president ordered "the orderly termination" of these projects over a 180-day period.

Military Junta Rules; Premier In Custody

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — The government of Premier Adnan Menderes was overthrown today in an army coup. The people of Turkey reacted with apparent relief to the ouster of the strong-man regime.

Turks hung huge banners from windows and cheered the army both in Istanbul and Ankara.

A military junta was ruling the country tonight.

The new ruler of Turkey is white-haired, 62-year-old Gen. Cemal Gursel, who resigned as commander of Turkish ground forces last month after a row with Menderes.

MILITARY JUNTA

Under Gursel is a military junta of high-ranking air force, navy and army officers who set up what they call the "Turkish National Union Committee."

The swift, well-organized rebellion started at midnight and was virtually completed by 4 a.m.

Armored brigades and thousands of infantry troops from depots in Thrace and the bleak Anatolian interior moved into strategic cities and towns from end to end of this 800-mile-wide country.

IN CUSTODY

Ex-Premier Menderes was taken to Ankara under army arrest after his capture on the road from Eskisehir to Kutahya, halfway between Istanbul and Ankara. A low-flying light army plane spotted Menderes' limousine speeding along the road about 5 a.m.

The plane landed ahead of the car. Troops hopped out and forced the car to turn around and head for Ankara.

All other major government leaders were put under military custody. Included was President Celar Bayar.

The military rebels promised to hold free elections, then hand over the government to the winners.

The army move followed a month of unrest which began with student demonstrations against Menderes and his government's oppressive measure's against the premier's chief political opposition, the Republican People's Party of former President Ismet Inonu.

The rebels were quick to assure the West that Menderes' overthrow meant no change in Turkey's staunch alliance with the West against Soviet communism. An Ankara broadcast said Turkey, Middle Eastern anchor of the Western defense line, would remain loyal to its membership in the North Atlantic and Central Treaty (CENTO) alliances.

In broadcasts over Ankara radio, Turkey's new military rulers called on all persons to stay at home and to obey the instructions of the military.

The military group said it

EAGLE WITH EARS — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge shows the gift eagle which he says was used by the Soviet Union to hide a lsitening device planted in the U. S. embassy in Moscow. Soviet-Planted Listening 'Bug' Shown To U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Memo to U.S. ambassadors: Always look a gift eagle in the beak.

Otherwise the great bird might turn out to be a spy, like the eagle on a copy of the great seal of the United States which Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge displayed to the U.N. Security Council yesterday as "a concrete example of Soviet espionage."

Lodge, speaking in the council debate on Soviet charges against American spy flights, said the wooden plaque was given the U.S. ambassador in Moscow by a group of Soviets.

PLAQUE HOLLOW

Later, he said, the plaque was found to be hollow.

"Here is the clandestine listening device with the aerial right under the eagle's beak," said Lodge, taking the plaque apart and explaining that persons outside with a receiver could pick up conversations the eagle "overheard."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko asked derisively what play the "prop" came from.

"It's not out of a play," Lodge replied. "It's out of the Soviet Union."

GIVEN HARRIMAN

Lodge did not say to which ambassador the plaque was given or when it was discovered. But W. Averell Harriman told newsmen the plaque was given to him in 1945 when he was ambassador to Moscow and he understood the listening device was discovered in 1952, when George F. Kennan held the post.

"I hung it up over the fireplace in my study," said Harriman. "It was not bugged when I had it."

Harriman added that the listening apparatus could have been installed in the seal sometime after his departure, for example when the room was being redecorated.

MARTIN BORMANN
Is he still alive?

Net Believed Closing On Another Nazi

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentine police are investigating reports that Israeli security agents captured Adolf Eichmann in Argentina and sneaked him out of the country last weekend.

The 54-year-old former Nazi officer charged with responsibility for the murder of six million Jews is being held in Israel under heavy guard to prevent lynch or suicide attempts before he stands trial for his life.

Reports of Eichmann's capture in Argentina spawned speculation that the net also is closing around another Hitler henchman, Martin Bormann.

Tuvia Friedmann, chief of the Documentation Center on Nazi Crimes in Haifa, Israel, was quoted by the Amsterdam Telegraaf as saying Eichmann disclosed that Bormann is still alive. Two British newspapers said the search for him is centering on South America.

There have been reports that Bormann was killed 15 years ago trying to make his getaway from the Berlin bunker in which Hitler died, but his body was never found.

The Telegraaf said official sources in West Germany are skeptical of the reports that Bormann is still alive.

The Israeli government has refused to disclose where Eichmann was caught or to comment on the Bormann reports.

Tel Aviv was obviously maintaining silence in an effort to avoid stirring up a diplomatic row over the cloak-and-dagger operations of its secret agents in foreign countries.

GOVERNOR WATCHES

Car Plows Through School Band; 12 Hurt

MADAWASKA, Maine (AP) — "Children were tossed into the air and all over the place. It was terrible—one of the most tragic scenes I've ever witnessed."

That was what Gov. John H. Reed saw yesterday when an automobile hurtled through a high school band massing for a parade. Twelve children were injured.

Three of the youngsters were dragged beneath the car as it careened through a municipal parking lot, smashed a guard rail, and plunged down an embankment. Their names were placed on the danger list at a hospital in nearby Edmundston, Canada.

The driver, George Pelletier, 62, an unemployed construction worker, told police he lost control when the car's gas pedal stuck. He was booked on a drunken driving charge and released on $5,000 bail.

Also injured was bandmaster Edward Murphy. He was knocked down by the car just as he was signaling the band to march.

Governor Reed, here to dedicate a new U.S. Customs Service building, looked on in horror as the car, which was waiting for the band to move out of the parking lot—lurched forward and plowed through the group of 71 children.

The car had to be lifted so that two of the youngsters could be pulled from beneath it.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Midas In Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — Something has gone wrong with the new Midas satellite, which is supposed to spot instantly the launching of any rocket or missile beneath it.

The Air Force said last night the telemetry equipment was not working properly, and, unless it can be set right by commands radioed from the earth, "the detection system cannot be tested in connection with scheduled missile launches and ground flares."

Officers Hold Meet

MERCED (UPI)—Officers from nine Central California counties will use sirens in addition to red lights in stopping motorists in rural areas at night.

The action was decided upon yesterday during a meeting called by Merced County Sheriff John Latorracca to combat red light bandit incidents. The area was the scene last week of two red light bandit assaults, one of them reminiscent of the crimes for which Caryl Chessman was recently executed.

Representatives from Kern, Kings, Fresno, Madera, Mariposa, Monterey, Santa Cruz, San Benito and Stanislaus counties agreed to try the proposal submitted by Latorracca. Officials from San Joaquin County took no stand.

Ike Invite Stands

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's government today informed the United States that its invitation to President Eisenhower to visit Japan next month still stands despite growing left-wing demonstrations demanding that it be called off.

Kishi's cabinet reaffirmed the invitation this morning and sent word to the U.S. embassy.

Finch Trial Delayed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The retrial of Carole Tregoff, 23, and her lover, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, charged with murder, has been delayed until June 20.

The pair are accused of killing the doctor's wife, Barbara, 36, last July. In the first trial the jury deadlocked.

The delay of their second trial stems from Miss Tregoff's appeal to the State Supreme Court for the right to challenge Judge Leroy Dawson as the retrial judge. Her counsel contends the judge is prejudiced.

Heavy Traffic Seen

CHICAGO (AP) — The first of 1960's three warm-weather long weekends lured millions of Americans to the highways today.

The National Safety Council estimated nearly all the nation's 73 million automobiles will be in use sometime during the holiday period from 6 p.m. today until midnight Monday.

The expected heavy traffic brought the dire estimate that, unless extreme care is observed, as many as 375 persons could lose their lives in car crashes during those 78 hours.

Opera Couple Weds

DETROIT (UPI)—For the first time in the 77-year history of New York's Metropolitan Opera, the wedding on stage was the real thing.

Ballerina Lolita San Miguel and concertmaster Raymond Gniewek were married yesterday afternoon on the stage of the Masonic Temple auditorium with the entire Met Company as guests.

Hilo Toll Rises

HONOLULU (AP)—Four more bodies, pulled from the rubble of Hilo, have brought the Hawaiian tidal wave toll of known dead to 49.

Officials yesterday said the number of missing was still 13. There still might be more bodies under the tons of debris and some might have been swept out to sea in Monday's disaster.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Tommy Sands gets a new suit today—a blue one.

He's starting six months of active duty in the Air Force Reserve. He flies to Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., with other recruits for eight weeks' basic training.

Herter Says Russ Junked Ike Article

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has disclosed that the Soviets canceled on May 6 a "Welcome-to-Russia" article about President Eisenhower in their English language magazine distributed here.

This was before the U. S. admission on May 7 that the U2 plane downed in the Soviet Union had been on an espionage mission, instead of a harmless weather flight.

Herter made the disclosure yesterday during a closed door appearance before the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Chairman Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.) prepared a summary of the session.

State Department sources later filled out the picture. They said the magazine article withdrawal showed that the decision to cancel Eisenhower's June visit to the Soviet Union was made on or before May 6. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev did not publicly withdraw the invitation until May 16 when the summit meeting was to begin.

Morgan's statement said "this indicates that the Soviet line about the President's visit had changed officially before the U2 incident had developed."

The article was scheduled for the June issue of U.S.S.R., the Soviet picture magazine produced for American distribution. The United States distributes a Russian language magazine called America in the Soviet Union.

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China announced today that three of its alpinists have conquered Mt. Everest from the sheer north face, the first time in history that the world's highest peak has been scaled from that side.

Catholics Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—The Roman Catholic population of the United States—including Alaska and Hawaii—now stands at 40,871,302 the 1960 Catholic Directory reported yesterday.

The new figure shows a rise of 1,365,827 from last year and is 47.2 per cent above the 1950 Catholic population of 27,766,141.

Chilean Aid Operations Are Pressed

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Clearing weather and an easing of nature's onslaughts today spurred rescue and aid operations in quake and tidal wave-devastated southern Chile.

It is feared the final death toll will top 5,000.

Official figures last night showed 2,829 dead or missing. But with scores of communities still cut off by six days of violent earth upheavals and tidal waves, officials said a final count cannot be made for weeks.

Only two new quakes were reported Wednesday night and yesterday. They were mild, giving rise to hope that the stricken country's ordeal soon may be over.

Jack Gille of 1319 Clinton Avenue, San Rafael, has been elected a director of the San Francisco Chapter, National Assn. of Accountants.

Race Clause Jeopardizes School Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inclusion of an anti-segregation amendment raised questions today about Senate acceptance of the first general school construction bill ever passed by the House.

A long, wrangling session ended in a 206-189 House vote yesterday to authorized $1,300,000,000 in federal grants over a four-year period to help construct public school classrooms.

Sponsors had hoped for quick approval by the Senate, which already had passed a more comprehensive measure.

But before passage, the House voted 218-181 to deny the funds to any school judged to be in defiance of court integration orders. That amendment was sponsored by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.).

Southern senators are expected to object strongly to that provision. And efforts to work out a Senate-House compromise would have to be cleared through the House Rules Committee, which had held up the bill for months.

Permit Requested For Piling, Docks

An application has been made by Jerry Stone Realty Co., 2228 Fourth Street, San Rafael, for a Department of the Army permit to drive piling and install floating docks in San Rafael Creek near the foot of Hoag Street.

Plans are to construct a shoreside apartment house which will involve the driving of three pilings and installation of two floats, with gangways. These floats will extend toward the channel to the construction line recently established by the City of San Rafael along the waterway.

Any protests concerning the army engineer interest, which has to do with public navigation rights, may be sent in triplicate to 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco, before June 24.

WASHER GOES IN — William Harrigan of Brabo and Enos, Mill Valley plumbing firm, installs washer in Marin City apartment of Mrs. Howell Pinson, who looks on with obvious pleasure. Residents of new Marin City housing had been forbidden to connect own washers and had been without laundry facilities. Installations started yesterday and will be completed by tonight, under contract with the Housing Authority, said Bert Klahn, administrator of the authority. (Independent-Journal photo)

Wash Machines To Run In Marin City Tonight

Residents of the new units at the Marin City low rent housing project will be able to use their washing machines by this evening.

Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, said installations will be completed by this evening for all residents who now have washing machines.

Marin City dwellers complained yesterday that they had been in the new apartments since April 15, but could not use their washers and were having to do the laundry in bathtubs and kitchen sinks or take it to the nearby self-service laundries.

The Housing Authority had forbidden the tenants to have the washers installed themselves, desiring uniform installation, according to Klahn.

Regarding another complaint —little or no television reception—Klahn said "installation of a master antenna on the hill behind the project will be made as rapidly as is physically possible."

"The location of the master antenna to serve the project has been a problem," Klahn said. "Also, a survey of the easement is required for the site, and this has delayed the installation."

The authority has committed itself through a contractor for the installation, Klahn said.

San Anselmo Police Plan Safety Checks

San Anselmo police will hold spot traffic safety checks, starting tonight, at the Hub intersection and in other parts of the city to curb Memorial Day weekend traffic accidents, announced Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani.

He said the program will be conducted in coordination with the Bay Area Traffic Executives Council.

Buchignani pointed out that several of his officers will work on their own time to participate in the safety program.

Capt. T. F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol said as far as he knows San Anselmo is the only city in the county that is conducting the program.

Parnow said the highway patrol may set up some check points tomorrow night.

San Francisco police reported that they will also have traffic safety checks beginning on major highways in San Francisco tonight. They reported that a safety check will also be held between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m. Monday for homecoming traffic.

Mother Guilty Of Abetting Delinquency

A Novato mother, whose two sons broke into Lynwood School on April 30, was found guilty of contributing to the boys' delinquency in Marin Superior Court yesterday.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori found Mrs. Ida Mae Carter, 36, guilty after a two-day trial. Probation report and sentencing were set for 10 a.m. on June 6. Maximum penalty is one year in county jail.

One of Mrs. Carter's sons, age 11, testified he and his older brother, 14, broke into Lynwood School and stole cash. Then they went on a spending spree, buying a .22 caliber rifle, pellet guns and ammunition.

The older boy did not appear at his mother's trial because he is being held by Washington state authorities, Asst. Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety told the judge. According to the Lewis County, Wash., sheriff's office, the youngster admitted slaying a 9-year-old girl there last September.

Washington police also have a "hold" on Mrs. Carter, whom they want to question in connection with the death of the girl, Garety said.

3rd Time's The Charm; Drunk Driver Convicted

A San Francisco motor scooter rider, who fought the district attorney to a draw in two previous drunken-driving trials, lost the third and rubber match this noon with an unanimous jury verdict against him.

A jury of four men and six women deliberated for an hour and 35 minutes and found Joseph E. Foley Jr., 31, guilty of driving while under the influence of stingers-in-the-rough.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Harold F. Wolters engineer the prosecution victory, after two previous trials on the same incident had ended in hung juries. Last October a jury voted 11 to 1 for acquittal. In December the second jury voted 11 to 1 for conviction.

Foley, represented by attorney Arthur Andreas through the three trials, maintained he had gulped down four stingers just before he tumbled off his scooter at midnight last Aug. 23 on the Sausalito lateral. Foley's attorney argued that the alcohol had not yet got around to affect Foley at the time of the mishap, although a blood test taken an hour later showed .184.

Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich used his deputies as guinea pigs to take stingers and used that for the second trial. But one juror could not be convinced at the second trial. Today, Wolters succeeded in convincing all 12.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas ordered Foley to pay $200 fine and remain on six months probation. During probation, Foley may drive his scooter (or a car) only for work.

Solon Urges Firing Of Span Director

State Sen. John F. McCarthy today called for removal of Marin Golden Gate Bridge Director Leland S. Murphy for injecting himself into the rapid transit situation.

In a letter to the County board of supervisors, McCarthy urged that Murphy be removed from the board.

McCarthy labeled as ill-advised and "sheer stupidity" Murphy's action in proposing to the supervisors that Marin County withdraw from the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District before current engineering studies are completed.

"Murphy is entirely out of line in writing such a letter. If he wants to express personal opinions to an official government body, he'd better get off the Golden Gate Bridge board," McCarthy suggested.

McCarthy was author of the bill that created the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

"Rapid transit need not be delayed for Marin if we are willing to press forward on it," McCarthy said. "There should be no more talk of eliminating Marin from the Greater Bay Area plan."

Costly Span Improvement Plan Voted

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District today approved a $2,083,000 bridge improvement program including traffic arches across the span and a flaring of the Marin end of the approach structure.

The vote of 13-to-1 came after Director Peter Gasser of Napa County urged inclusion of a full closed-circuit television system to scan the roadway across the bridge. The committee of the whole which had considered the project earlier this week, had recommended that only television wiring be included in the initial installation.

Opposing the project was Director Phillips Davies of San Francisco, who warned that going ahead with the plan now might cost more later in the bridge's total modernization program.

Novato Waitress Reported Missing

A slim, brunette waitress left four children ranging in age from 3 to 8 and vanished from her Novato home, her husband reported to sheriff's deputies last night.

Mrs. Delia Ann McMurphy, 30, of 1510 Armstrong Avenue, left a note Tuesday morning, saying she could not go on always arguing with her husband, according to Milton Marvin McMurphy, 31, the husband. He is a cook.

A search bulletin was issued for Mrs. McMurphy, who is 5 feet 2 inches, 110 pounds, has black hair, brown eyes, and dark complexion.

McMurphy said his wife may have gone to Redding or to Hayfork.

HIGHWAY

and Lucas, the San Rafael High School, as places for display.

While Hayler presented what he called alternates, essentially there is one plan with two major construction parts: That of the widening and that of the traffic interchange. The alternates actually are refinements in direction and scope of one main plan.

Starting at the northerly end of the proposed 2.3-mile project and working south, these are some of the main points brought out at yesterday's meeting:

1. Channelization would make a two-way road of the Villa Avenue underpass that now leads northbound traffic off Lincoln Avenue, under Highway 101 and to the highway. This would be changed to provide two-way traffic, and a ramp would be provided for southbound traffic leaving Lincoln in that area. Additional right of way probably would be sought to the west.

2. A northbound offramp would be built at Linden Lane, leading directly through the county office building (to be vacated when offices are moved to the civic center), and pouring traffic onto Grand Avenue. Traffic to the west would then use the present Linden underpass to reach Lincoln Avenue. No other ramp is contemplated. (A traffic survey showed that by 1980, 150 cars would use the ramp to get to the west side of the highway, and 1,500 would travel to the east daily.)

3. The present northbound offramp at Belle Avenue would be eliminated, and in that area a northbound onramp would be constructed.

4. The southbound offramp at Stevens Place would be reworked to lead into a ground-level "feeder" street running parallel to the highway.

5. The city would be required to work out a plan of one-way streets from Mission Avenue to Second Street to handle left-turn traffic off this "feeder" street. Some of the streets would have to be one-way in the other direction to handle traffic from east San Rafael that would pass under the highway to downtown or along the "feeder" street to the interchange at Third and Irwin.

6. The viaduct (the overhead portion of the highway through San Rafael) and the highway to Puerto Suello would be widened to eight lanes.

7. The highway from the viaduct to California Park or the San Quentin Wye would be widened to 10 lanes.

8. The interchange would be connected to First Street either through a complicated system of grade levels, if a westbound freeway to San Anselmo is planned, or by a street to be provided by San Rafael. (The city was asked if it would approve of this freeway interchange.)

9. West Francisco Boulevard would end in a cul-de-sac at its present approximate intersection with Irwin Street. A spur would be run off south of there to connect with Dubois, and Irwin would be connected with the newly completed portion of Lincoln.

10. A Highway 101 northbound offramp would leave at the approximate present location of the entrance to San Rafael and connect with Irwin.

11. In the same location, East Francisco Boulevard would be curved out over the San Rafael Canal south of Irwin, and connect with Grand Avenue. No direct connection with the highway is planned from this roadway. Francisco would not connect with Irwin.

12. San Quentin Wye interchange would be slightly reworked to provide for the highway widening.

The alternates, the costs and the number of houses of business that would be removed, are:

1. A westerly plan that would mean acquiring extra rights of way to the west of the highway in the viaduct area but would take more property to the east in the county building-St. Peter Chanel Seminary area: $14,200,000; 88 improvements.

2. A double deck plan, essentially the same as the westerly plan, but one that would make two levels of Highway 101 in the Francisco boulevard area; $19,200,000; 81 improvements.

3. An easterly plan that would mean taking rights of way mostly from the eastern side of the highway; $14,300,000; 98 improvements. Viaduct widening would be on the east side.

4. A westerly plan that would call for taking less of the seminary property, but taking more property on the west side of the highway in that area; $13,900,000; 92 improvements.

Hayler said the division prefers the No. 1 westerly plan because a "better curved" highway can be built. Moving further to the west in order not to take seminary property would present a "broken back curve," he said. Acquisition would be to the last in the seminary area, to the west in the viaduct area.

Greene said the study was started in 1957, and that the presentation yesterday "precedes a public demonstration. This is the first time they have been shown." (Architect Schubart got a sneak preview prior to Wednesday's meeting in San Rafael.)

"We will need freeway agreements with the city and the board of supervisors on the changing of any city streets. Then we have to buy the property. It may be five to 10 years before it is completed. It all depends on the local money that is put up," Greene said.

He added that it "may be two years before we can purchase rights of way." Later, after prodding by McInnis, Hayler said things might be speeded up, depending on city cooperation, so that a start might be made on freeway development in a matter of months.

Greene said the proposal for eight lanes was based on a traffic survey that showed highway traffic would increase two to three times by 1980.

Hayler said, "We've developed what we think will be the maximum potential." Asked after the meeting if the state plans ultimately to build a 20-lane highway through San Rafael, he said that figure was arrived at in a study made by Marin Planning Director Mary Summers "several years ago when she wanted to show what it would be like in the future without a rapid transit system."

"We're likening the traffic here to that leading out of San Francisco to the Bayshore," Greene said, "and we think they are constructive predictions."

Hayler and Greene said that in widening the highway between Puerto Suello and the viaduct, the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks would have to be "moved a few feet" to the west.

Hayler said in the alternative liked by his staff, one of the seminary buildings would have to be torn down, and 40 feet of the parking lot at Coleman School would have to be acquired.

"One plan takes more seminary property and the other takes more railroad track relocation," he said. "The motel on Myrtle will not go."

Making an obvious reference to the fact that the plan was discussed Tuesday night, before the division decided to make it public, Hayler said the division design section in Sacramento wanted to see the plan first. "But we certainly want the people to see it," he said, "so they will get a clear picture and not rumors."

McInnis called the plan "crucial," and told Hayler, "I think you have the solution if you can get it moving."

Referring to the Tuesday meeting, McInnis told Hayler: "One group has a head start in opposition. They haven't the foggiest notion what it is about." He then asked for a set of the maps for the city, "something we can have around for about a month."

"We're in trouble now," the mayor said. "In five years we'll really have had it." Hayler than promised a speedup "if you get going on your part." He said San Rafael has "a congestion problem" that does not compare with grade crossings in other parts of the state where there are accidents and where traffic interchanges are needed.

Bagshaw referred to a plan for an interchange that was dropped several years ago after San Rafael's "battle of the bulge." He showed enthusiasm for the present plan, but indicated that dropping of the "bulge" plan several years ago had set San Rafael behind the times.

McInnis pressed Hayler for more information on further grade separations at the interchange. Broken lines on the plan showed two traffic lanes swinging off the viaduct to First Street, and two others from the highway in the Francisco Boulevard area to First.

Hayler said they were not part of the plan, but were "drawn in" to show how a freeway to the west could be made to tie in with Highway 101. He said that in any case, inlet and outlet from the highway would have to be provided there.

Hayler said this area of the plan "would have to be pinned down—whether there is to be a freeway or city street connection."

FATALITY

Its rear bumper struck him and knocked him down.

Sheriff's Deputy Arthur Wiggins said witnesses told him the boy ran to the rear of the scraper and tried to grab on to a projection to hitch a ride. When the tractor backed up, the jolt may have thrown him to the ground, Wiggins reported.

The patrol investigation absolved Hart of blame and noted that he had taken all reasonable precautions.

The little boy leaves a 5-year-old sister, Anita, besides his parents.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m., tomorrow, at Christ Presbyterian Church, Terra Linda, with burial in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael, directed by Harry M. Williams Mortuary. Memorial contributions may be made in young Granville's name to the National Safety Council, said the father.

The suit asks the court to stop Assessor Broemmel's cycle reappraisal or to have the assessor refrain from putting the new values on the assessment rolls until reappraisal in all the county is completed.

Assessor Broemmel reiterated today that he is acting in accordance with the legal advice of the county counsel and using methods recommended by the State Board of Equalization.

List For College Post Cut To Seven

The names of seven applicants for the position of College of Marin administrative assistant—screened from more than 90 seeking the job—will be handed the college trustees "within a few days."

A letter from county school supt. Virgil S. Hollis, coordinator of a seven-member committee charged with preliminary screening of candidates for the job, added that the list could not be reduced to five, as requested by the board, because of the outstanding qualifications of all seven still in the running.

The man selected for the post would be in line to succeed president Ward H. Austin on his retirement at the end of the next school year. Until that time, the board announced, he would "be responsible in a large measure for the administration of the college inasmuch as the president will be on accumulated and compensated leave while directing special studies and projects of importance to the college."

Austin, according to the board's announcement, would continue to maintain an office on the campus and be available as consultant and coordinator.

The man hired as Austin's successor would be paid a salary of "not less than $13,500 during his first year," the board said. He can look forward to "a four-year contract and a salary for his first year as president of not less than $15,000." (It was incorrectly reported in the Independent-Journal on May 19 that the position would pay "up to $13,500.")

Requirements for the position, as set forth by the trustees, include:

EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND: A baccalaureate degree in an academic field with a doctorate "a distinct asset."

"The best measure should be the candidate's ability to use the English language proficiently to communicate in writing or orally, and an understanding of the political, economical and social forces at work in our culture."

CULTURAL BACKGROUND: An interest in art, music, drama and a broad interest in the fields of community affairs, national and international problems.

EXPERIMENTAL BACKGROUND: The board stated that the man should have several years of "distinguished teaching experience," top level administrative experience, considerable leadership in community groups and "broad experience in a variety of social situations gained through travel, military service, professional organizations or challenging positions in industry or government."

PERSONAL CHARACTERISTICS: A well-balanced personality with a reputation for dealing justly and the ability to stand on principal and say "no." Also desirable is an interest in the field of finance and a demonstrated ability to speak effectively before large or small groups.

Final selection and announcement of the future president is expected by June 15.

College Board Creates Music Dept. Position

College of Marin trustees last night created a new position of music department head—and offered the job to a choral and vocal specialist from Eugene, Ore.

William F. Steward, 44, who holds master's degree from Westminister Choir College in Princeton, N. J., said he would discuss the board's offer with his wife and let them know his decision sometime next week.

The college, according to the board of trustees, has never had a music department head. Thompson Chesnut heads the instrumental music faculty and Dr. John Milton Kelly is in charge of choral music, both on part-time basis.

Steward was offered the position of instructor and head of the music department after a closed session of the board at the end of its regular business meeting last night.

Married and the father of two teen-age girls, Steward is now completing his doctorate in music at University of Oregon. He received his undergraduate training at Nebraska State Teachers College and has taught in both high schools and colleges.

Steward noted that the music department is sadly lacking in facilities and said he hopes the board is prepared to "back up their interest with some money."

Reception Planned For Novato Boy Going To Norway

David Williams, Novato High School student who will spend a year in Norway, will leave June 6 for Europe.

The Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Frances Church, Novato, are planning a reception for him from 8 to 9 p.m. Wednesday.

"It will be an opportunity for friends to wish him a happy journey and contribute toward the financial expenses of the trip," said Mrs. Arnold Heise, on the reception committee. The reception will be in Bishop Block Hall on Fifth Street.

Williams will live with a Norwegian family in the small town of Kerkenes. The trip is under the American Field Service student exchange program.

260 MILLION VEHICLES

Our Golden Gate Bridge Is 23-Years-Old Today

Today is the Golden Gate Bridge's 23rd birthday. It was opened on May 27, 1937.

The span, now valued at 120 million dollars, was financed with a 35-million-dollar bond issue voted by the residents of the six counties in the bridge district, San Francisco, Marin, Sonoma, Del Norte and parts of Mendocino and Napa. It is not a part of the state highway system and receives no support from gas tax or other tax revenues.

On the contrary, the bridge district borrowed five million dollars and gave it to the State Division of Highways to help pay the cost of reconstructing the Waldo Grade. That piece of highway is the only toll road in the California highway system, with the money for its improvement still to be repaid, plus interest, by the tolls of bridge users.

Since the opening day day, more than 260 million vehicles have crossed the span, pouring more than 81 million dollars in gross revenues into the bridge's coffers. However, only 10 million dollars of the original 35 million dollars in bonds have been retired. The bridge district has accumulated reserves totaling eight million dollars to pay off the non-callable bonds as they become due, plus an additional 10 million dollars in other reserve funds.

The bridge directors observed the birthday this morning at their regular meeting by hearing a report from the general manager on the first 23 years of bridge operations.

DINING OUT AND INNS

Fireside Dinner Well Worth It; Fleur d'Lys Adds Champagne Lunch

We came, we saw, we ate—and were conquered. Dinner at the Fireside turned out to be well worth recommending.

At considerable expense, kitchen and dining room have been done over, and Gus Crowley's food is served with painstaking care.

Specialties are his steaks, which reach the tables with the sizzling still attached. We feasted on New Yorks — well cured and broiled to our liking. Gus is particular in choosing his meats and if you don't find them right he wants to know—the purveyors will hear about it. Makes his own rolls, too.

If you were a Fireside patron five or six years ago you'll remember that Gus built up a nice trade in dinners, and he's out to do it again. Until recently he's been away at the Royal Palms in Phoenix.

SPRING CHAMPAGNE LUNCHEON—This is a new feature of the Fleur d'Lys in San Anselmo, served every Sunday from noon.

Price runs $2.75 and includes champagne cocktail, soup or salad, choice of three entrees—chicken champagne, sole in pastry crust or beef medaillon—dessert and coffee.

If you've never visited Fleur d'Lys here's a chance to do so at modest cost—or try the $3.75 dinner some night.

QUITE AN EYEPIECE as well as appealing to the taste is Rancho Nicasio's new salad served in half a pineapple—ask for the pineapple salad, cowboy style.

New here on the menu, too, is chicken a la Kiev and chicken New Orleans, both prepared right from the start by chef Louie Onofrio—and boneless.

Something always doing at this Kobseff-Kerch dinery on Saturday nights. We found two banquets feted, in addition to regular dinners. Fortunately there's that much room.

A RECENT SURVEY I noticed that was put out by market analysts Benson and Benson, Inc. says that 73 per cent of people like to eat out in restaurants. Of 2,000 persons surveyed, 43 per cent had eaten out at least one meal in the preceding week. Women like to eat out more often than their husbands.

Chief deterrants to doing it more often are: High cost of meals, lack of time, the burden of small children, poor health and dressing up.

Average restaurant checks are: Breakfast 78 cents, lunch $1.16, dinner $2.19.

No comment.

A WEAKNESS I have is Swiss steak. Among those who cook it just the way I like it Mitchell Paveaux at Le Chateau where I "discovered" it for lunch.

Lunches here, I was pleased to see, are doing well, and with warm weather still more will come.

That is, if pantryman Scotty MacKinnon will stop getting leap year proposals from a certain svelte brunette and buckle down to work.

What's lunch without a good salad?

ANOTHER SPOT cashing in on its midday meals is the Ranch Wagon. Lunches there, by the way, are NOT self-service—chuck wagon style, as are the dinners. You'll be served at the table.

NEW PANCAKE (yeah—another one) you should try at Eugene's, not yet on the regular menu is "Hawaiian sunburst."

It's a six or seven-inch cake surmounted by a slab of ham almost as large, topped with chunky pineapple syrup, a fried egg sunnyside up and coconut.

Personally I think Gene got the name from looking at the feather spread of his peacocks . . . The cage he had built couldn't accommodate them without being enlarged.

FROM BUON GUSTO comes word by Eleanor McArdle that his restaurant on the knoll will be open next Monday, Memorial Day. Ordinarily it's closed.

What's a holiday for one is work for another.

VILLAGE INN, San Anselmo (soon to be renamed Henry's Old Place) has discontinued dinners. Now open at 6 a.m. for breakfast, also lunches until 3 p.m.

New masters of the cooking department are Glen Thorpe and his wife, Jean. Glen was formerly on the cooking staff of the Alta Mira. Grand opening—June 4.

5 Candidates Vie For Election To State Assembly

Voters in both parties have a choice of candidates in the race for nomination to the State Assembly from the Seventh District, although not much choice in locale. All five candidates are from two cities.

The three Democratic candidates are Everett A. Matzen and Mrs. Helen Putnam, of Petaluma and Joseph G. Wilson of San Rafael.

The two Republicans are William T. Bagley of San Rafael and Leigh Shoemaker of Petaluma.

They all seek the Marin-Sonoma seat being vacated by retiring Republican Assemblyman Richard H. McCollister.

EVERETT A. MATZEN jumped into the race with both feet after he was refused endorsement by the California Democratic Council endorsing convention. He had indicated he would abide by its decision, but after thinking over the events of that convention, he decided to run without the council's backing.

Matzen, 42, is business manager of Butchers Union Local 364 and a vice president of the Western Federation of Butchers. He is a Petaluma city councilman, having been elected in 1957, topping all candidates running that year.

The council was not his first civic service. He had served two years on the city's planning commission, had been a member of the Sonoma County Grand Jury, served on the Petaluma Citizens Water Committee which paved the way for city purchase of California Water Service Co. facilities, served in the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce, Petaluma Citizens Committee on Schools, and many others.

A three-year veteran of World War II, he served with the Coast Guard in the South Pacific. He is married and has three children.

MRS. HELEN PUTNAM has just completed serving a term as president of the California School Boards Assn. For 12 years she was a member of the Petaluma Board of Education, its president most of those years, but last year she was defeated for re-election.

The wife of Rutherford Putnam, a member of a pioneer Petaluma family, she has long been active in civic affairs. Like Matzen, she was a member of the city's planning commission and of the citizen water committee. She has been a leader in the Sonoma County Schools Trustees Assn. and in the Parent-Teacher Assn.

She was a delegate to the White House Conference on Children and Youth last March in Washington, D.C., and in 1955 was a delegate to the White House Conference on Education.

At present she is a member of the advisory board to the California Congress of Parents and Teachers and a consultant to the California Council on Teacher Education.

A teacher, herself, she received her education at the University of California. She has a son and daughter in Petaluma High School.

JOSEPH G. WILSON, 41, is a San Rafael attorney, president of the Marin County Bar Assn. and former member of the San Rafael City Council.

After graduation from Stanford University Law School, he served as an attorney for the Atomic Energy Commission and Public Housing Administration. He continues as a consulting counsel in AEC security proceedings.

During World War II, he was an officer in the Navy, serving on a destroyer in the South Pacific for two and one-half years, including five major campaigns.

His public service includes the vice presidency of the Marin United Fund, activity in various organizations such as Boy Scouts, Little League, the Optimists and Rotary Clubs, Toastmasters, chamber of commerce, and as a committee chairman for the Council for the Prevention of Crime and Delinquency.

The endorsed candidate of the California Democratic Council, he also claims support of the Sonoma unit of the California Council of Democratic Clubs, and other organizations.

He is married and has a son, 13, and a daughter, 10.

WILLIAM T. BAGLEY, 32, is a native of Marin County and his wife was born and reared in Sonoma County.

The attorney was educated at the University of California, where he was graduated with Phi Beta Kappa honors, and then took a law degree at Boalt Hall.

He is a state vice president of the California Republican Assembly, has held offices in the California Young Republicans organization, and taken an active part in political campaigns for other candidates. This is the first time he has sought political office.

Active in civic affairs, he was a member of the Marin County Board of Freeholders in 1957 which developed a county charter for Marin only to be rejected by the voters. Bagley found the final form of the charter not to his liking, and campaigned for its defeat.

He is a member of the Elks Lodge, the Native Sons, Chamber of Commerce and other organizations, and lives in San Rafael with his wife and three children.

LEIGH SHOEMAKER, 56, is the only one of the five candidates with a lengthy political history. He was a member of the board of freeholders which drew up the charter for the City of Petaluma. Then he was elected to the city council and served for eight years, part of the time as vice mayor.

In 1955 he was elected Sonoma County supervisor from the southern Sonoma district. He was chairman of the board last year.

Educated in engineering, he did research and testing on California highways for five years and then went into retail business for 32 years in both California and Texas. For 20 years he and his wife operated merchantile stores in Petaluma and Novato. He has disposed of both of them now.

Other public positions he has held include planning commissioner, library trustee, recreation commissioner and vice chairman of civil defense. He has been active in chamber of commerce, Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts, Red Cross, the Community Concert Assn., of which he was president, the Town Hall Committee, and many others.

The Shoemakers have a married daughter who lives in Sacramento.

Resignation Received By Transit Board

Resignation of John C. Beckett of Kentfield from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District board was read at the directors' meeting yesterday, but no action was taken on it.

The other Marin director, T. J. De Lasaux of Mill Valley, pointed out that Beckett is still a Marin resident and probably will continue to be until July 1.

De Lasaux said it is unlikely the Marin County Board of Supervisors would appoint a successor prior to the June 7 supervisorial election. He therefore urged the board to table the resignation until its next meeting, June 9.

Beckett came in for praise from several of the directors. He was not present at the meeting.

Allan Charles of San Francisco proposed that Beckett be made a "chief wheel" in the Palo Alto area in promoting rapid transit. Beckett is to move to that area.

De LaSaux reported on a letter this week by Golden Gate Bridge Director Leland S. Murphy, who suggested to the Marin County Board of Supervisors that they immediately withdraw the county from the district. De Lasaux pointed out that Murphy is a large property holder in West Marin and said he "is not interested in transit." He said the bridge director's request "has actually strengthened our position in Marin."

Directors set for June 9 a report of the rules and policies committee, on when a bond election should be held.

Building Code Exemptions Being Sought

The Marin County Housing Authority and the Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church will seek exemptions from requirements of the uniform building code at a county board of appeals meeting set for 8 p.m. next Tuesday in the courthouse.

Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church has a basement room which is to be divided into Sunday school classrooms. However, for the moment, it is one large room.

Otto H. Meyer, chief county building inspector, says that under the building code, any assembly room capable of holding 50 or more persons must have panic doors (doors with horizontal iron bars that can be pushed to swing them open).

EXPENSIVE DOORS

Panic doors are expensive, and the church wants to get by with ordinary doors.

The housing authority has completed some wood frame buildings of two stories in Marin City, with four units in each building. Each unit has a stairway leading from the living room to the second floor.

Space under the stairway has been converted to closets. The building code says the soffit (underside of stairway) in this case must have one-hour fire resistant construction.

CIRCULAR STAIRCASE

Architects Hermann and Steinan are appealing a requirement that applies to circular staircases. The building involved is at 535 Woodland Road, Kentfield.

Building Inspector Meyer says the code section requires at least a six-inch horizontal rung on winding staircases.

This is to prevent persons from slipping down the stairs because of narrow steps. Hermann and Steinan want an exemption.

Language Program Explanation Set

Novato parents may get a view of their schools' language program in a public review of it Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Novato High School.

The meeting is planned as a forerunner of a series aimed at telling the public what its schools are doing, Supt. W. J. J. Smith said.

Explanations of language teaching in each grade from kindergarten through high school are scheduled, with Ralph Giovanello, curriculum coordinator at the high school, leading a group of teachers in the presentation.

Rep. Miller Tells Cheering Demos War Can't Be Foreign Policy Tool

Rep. Clement W. Miller of Corte Madera last night detailed "a new, fundamental, basic truth" for some 300 Democrats who gathered at a testimonial dinner in his honor in Bermuda Palms, San Rafael.

This truth, he said, "is the fact the war is no longer a meaningful instrument of Foreign policy . . . Peaceful solutions are the sole meaningful bases for foreign policy."

Miller, who flew to the west coast from Washington yesterday and left immediately today on a swing through the seven counties of the First Congressional District, was introduced by Harold Morgan, chairman of the Marin Miller for Congress Committee and of the Marin Democratic County Central Committee. Morgan called him "our erudite congressman" and declared, "it is manditory that we have a candidate with ideas about our foreign policy."

The congressman said he "deeply appreciated" President Eisenhower's speech on the U-2 incident and the breakup of the summit conference, although "I have not yet had an opportunity to study this speech."

But he lashed out that the president and the administration about the U-2 incident.

He was one of the congressmen who posed eight questions to the president on the U-2 incident.

There is "overwhelming importance" to the U-2, he declared. "It is a fact which can not be explained away. It hangs there in the sky, a fearsome portent, portent of war by accident, a hanging symbol of the fatal weakness of this administration."

Miller also charged the administration with "abject failure to pursue disarmament objectives" and being "woefully unprepared at Geneva."

He declared the president doesn't understand the changing character of the nation: "the wedding of the United States to the federal government," that "the age of the land base tax is over and with it the outmoded ideas of the role of federal government in its relationship to state and local government."

"There is no understanding," he continued, "of the need for growth, the need for a (federal) program budget attuned to national goals; but rather (there is) a petty grubbing and putting together of a budget with the dollars at hand.

There is no relating all these changes to the individual American — for his retirement, for his health, for his education, for his leisure."

There is, Miller continued, a "developing ferment in this country over our place in the world, our very purpose, and the mounting, insistent concern for foreign policy."

He cited four "truths" which "follow compulsively" from "the fundamental truth that war is impossible":

1. The need to work for active disarmament, with a moratorium on nuclear testing as a "vital symbol."

2. The need to make an effective international force out of the United Nations.

3. The need to "neutralize the great trouble spots of the world — Berlin, the Middle East, Formosa."

4. The need to reopen channels of communication and negotiation with Red China."

In place of "sudden, penetrating illumination" on the part of Eisenhower, "we have a series of the dreariest vetoes ever signed by a president, "Miller declared to the applause of the audience.

Probably "the greatest failure" of the press today, he declared, was in its failure to "dissect these presidential vetoes."

Seated at the head table, and making 30-second speeches to the gathering, were Everett Matzen and Joseph G. Wilson, candidates for the Assembly; Charles Geller, candidate for State Senate; Mrs. Nancy Swadesh, district co-chairman of the Miller campaign; Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, California Democratic National Committeewoman; Mrs. Nancy Strawbridge and Gerald Hill, first vice president and district director, respectively, of the California Democratic Council.

Year-Old 'New' Pay Schedule Adopted By College Trustees

A teacher salary schedule which has been in effect for a year at College of Marin was officially adopted by the board of trustees last night.

The schedule, containing 16 steps and five grades ranging from a beginning salary of $5,400 to $9,200, represents an average $400 annual increase over salaries in effect during the 1958-59 school year. Although it was applied to 1959-60 salaries, it was written into each separate contract as additional compensation because of a technicality in the minutes of a meeting of more than a year ago.

Last night's action by the board made the "new" salary schedule official.

A 10-page report on the current status of the school library was given the trustees by librarian Charles Masten at the request of president Ward H. Austin and Trustee Robert E. Oliver.

The report, taken under advisement for further study by the board, covers the budget and operational costs of the library.

The next budget session of the board was set for May 31 at 4 p.m. in the board room in Harlan Hall. One prior budget session failed to arrive at any budgetary decision because of lack of a breakdown of departmental expenses and omission of new salary schedules.

The trustees postponed establishment of a vocational nursing course, scheduled to open next term, until a teacher satisfactory to both the board and the hospitals is found.

Pushtu is the dominant language in Afghanistan. It is similar to the Persian language.

Hayden To Receive Placque For Aid To Dimes Drive

Sterling Hayden will be presented with a plaque for his contribution of time and effort in the 1960 March of Dimes campaign for Sausalito at 8:30 p.m. June 6 at the Sausalito City Hall.

George Sugarman, director of the Sausalito dimes program, said the actor, who lives in Belvedere, made an "extraordinary contribution mainly by taking people out for tours of the bay in his schooner, the Wanderer, with funds going to the campaign."

Sugarman, who will make the presentation on behalf of the national foundation, said State Sen. John F. McCarthy and Sausalito Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. will speak. The presentation will take place during the Sausalito City Council meeting.

Herter Says Ike's Taking U-2 Blame Is Unprecedented

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told senators today he knows of no instance paralleling President Eisenhower's assumption of personal responsibility for spy plane flights over Russia.

Herter was asked, in testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, if there was any precedent for a head of government assuming responsibility for espionage activities.

"No," Herter replied, "the general practice has been, I think, for a long period of time to deny any responsibility whatever."

"But, Herter said, the U-2 plane "incident was of a very unusual nature."

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) asked the secretary whether he thought it was wise for Eisenhower to have taken this course.

Herter replied he doesn't think it makes a great deal of difference.

"On the other hand," he said, "I believe in a case of this kind the telling of the truth was the better course than getting deeper into fabricating excuses or disavowing desponsibility."

Herter's testimony was given in the committee's closed-door investigation of events leading up to the Paris summit conference collapse.

His direct statements, in response to questions, were made public after passing through the hands of censors.

In a lengthy prepared statement, he said the United States must be prepared in the aftermath of the summit collapse "to withstand aggressive pressures from Russia" in Berlin and elsewhere.

At the same time he advocated a "calm and resolute" posture toward the Soviet Union.

Absentee Votes Key To Election Recount Result

Unless the 35 absentee votes are tossed out of the Larkspur election, challenger Jane W. Epidendio will not have a chance of overtaking the two councilmen elected on April 12.

This was indicated after a recount of votes in the county courthouse yesterday.

County Clerk George S. Jones, who presided over the recount, reported that of the more than 1,300 votes recounted, only 14 were challenged by the three candidates. Mrs. Epidendio and Councilmen Lesly A. Daveler and Daniel Allen. Jones said he does not know the actual breakdown of yesterday's recount.

None of the absentee ballots was challenged. The 14 challenge ballots are to be presented to Judge N. Charles Brusatori next Thursday morning for a decision.

Although there will be no official announcement of the recount result until the court hearing next week, it was learned that the outcome of yesterday's recount was as follows:

Allen 522, Daveler 521, and Mrs. Epidendio 515. In addition to these are the 14 challenged ballots. Unofficial reports show that of the 14 challenged ballots, only six are for Mrs. Epidendio. If all six for Mrs. Epidendio are declared valid, this would give her 521. But if the ballots cast for her are declared valid, then the other challenged votes may be declared valid. Daveler would need to pick up only one of the challenged ballots to stay ahead of Mrs Epidendio.

The original count was Develer 528, Allen 529 and Mrs. Epidendio 520, including the absentees.

The 14 ballots were challenged for several reasons, including the following: Four "X" marks instead of the legal three, pencilled or penned marks instead of the legal rubber stamp, "X's" marked outside the box, and triple "X" marks alongside one name.

All 35 absentee ballots appeared to be in order and were not challenged. But Mrs. Epidendio's attorney, William Corrigan, is trying to have the absentees tossed out on grounds they were counted by the city clerk and city council instead of by the county clerk or his designated deputy.

Allen's attorney, Wallace S. Myers, contends that the city clerk and city councilmen canvass absentee ballots in almost every city, and Larkspur did nothing out of the ordinary.

The recount revealed counting errors in several precincts, with candidates gaining in some precincts and losing in others. However, the errors canceled themselves out, and the overall result turned out just about the same.

RUSS POLITICS

Lodge Charges Reds 'Manufactured' Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge charged today the Soviet Union deliberately manufactured the current crisis over spy plane flights because of internal political difficulties.

The U. S. delegate told the U. N. Security Council that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko had distorted President Eisenhower's address to the nation Wednesday night in order to keep the crisis boiling.

Lodge spoke as the 11-nation council neared a vote—and a possible Soviet veto — on a small nation resolution calling for renewed East-West negotiations with the aid of the United Nations.

Lodge vigorously denied Eisenhower had said the United States was prepared to continue a policy of espionage and sabotage. Gromyko declared yesterday that the President had placed mankind on the brink of war by confirming such a policy.

"That is what the Soviet foreign minister said about Dwight D. Eisenhower, whose love of peace is a household word throughout the world," Lodge said. "Any honest reading of the President's speech shows that he said no such thing. One thing the United States has never engaged in is sabotage."

Lodge asked why Gromyko continues to talk as though he regrets Eisenhower's declaration halting U2 flights over Soviet territory.

"For some reason emanating from Soviet internal politics," he said, "he wants to have a pretext for a new zig-zag in foreign policy."

Gromyko took the floor later to press for a series of Soviet amendments to the small nation resolution. He sought to revise the proposal to include an indictment of unauthorized flights by one country over the territory of another.

'Miss Marin' Selection Set Tonight

The lucky girl who will win prizes and go on to fame as Marin's contestant in the California Beauty Pageant, which leads to the "Miss Universe" contest, will be selected tonight.

Suffering cases of last-minute jitters in the contest for the "Miss Marin" title are the three local finalists—Charlotte Huebner, Mill Valley; Barbara DuPuis, Tiburon, and Linda Henn, San Rafael.

They will be selected after a forum to be attended by approximately 150 persons at the John Robert Powers School of Personal Improvement at 1000 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. The school and the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring the contest.

If the "Miss Marin" selection wins in the state contest she will go to the "Miss United States" contest to be held prior to the "Miss Universe" contest.

Fisherman Dies In Boat Off Marin West Coast

A chief mate on a commercial fishing boat out of Coos Bay, Ore., collapsed and died, apparently of a heart attack, early today about 12 miles out of Point Reyes.

John E. A. Einarsen, 60, of San Pedro, was dead when taken ashore just north of Drake's Bay about 8 a.m. today.

Sheriff's Deputy William S. Christensen was at the beach when Coast Guardsmen brought the victim to the Point Reyes Lifeboat Station.

Einarsen was chief mate on the Coos Bay, which was headed from Oregon to Los Angeles.

The body was taken to Chapel of the Hill in San Anselmo.

Streaking Giants Send Antonelli Against Cardinals

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

DeMaestri Discovers Traveling With The Yankees Is Broadening

Old buddy Joe DeMaestri has discovered that travelling with the New York Yankees is broadening.

Besides wearing out the seat of his flannels on the Yankee bench, Joe has had to let his belt out a couple of notches. All this because Manager Casey Stengel has used him a grand total of one (1) inning during the first 30 games. That was in the role of pinch-runner; he hasn't even had a time at bat yet.

Joe wrote to his dad that this inactivity has created a weight problem. At the end of spring training he weighed 176—today he's 185.

The way regular shortstop Tony Kubek has been hitting (.310), it looks like the San Anselmo utility infielder, obtained from Kansas City in that big winter trade, will continue to warm the bench for some time.

Incidentally, DeMaestri's Falstaff Distributing Co. in San Rafael has available some 49er pro football highlight films. Organizations can borrow same by contacting Syl DeMaestri at the suds plant.

RAY NICKLEBERRY, College of Marin's super high-jumper, appears nearly recovered from a knee injury and is in Modesto this weekend for the California Junior College Championships.

Ray cleared 6-7¾ at the start of the season, but his gimpy knee started acting up and he fell way below that mark during the year. However, last week he hit 6-5 to tie for the Golden Valley Conference crown and showed strong indications of being ready for a big jump this weekend.

Last year, as a prep senior, he won the state championship.

THINGS LOOKED black indeed for the Peri's Tavern team in the forthcoming Marin Tavern Softball League when Manager Danny Olsen discovered his only pitcher had quit and joined the rival Old Timer team.

To Olsen, this was like Manager Bill Rigney losing Sam Jones and Mike McCormick. In fact, the skipper of the Fairfax team was about to throw himself off the nearest curb when a guy named Earl Lowe approched him with: "Say, I understand you have a softball team. I've done some pitching in the service; can I try out?"

Olsen eyed him skeptically, but gave in: "Well, I guess you're better than nothing."

Lowe showed up for the practice game with the Old Timers Wednesday night and proved better than nothing. He pitched a no-hit, no-run game for seven innings, and struck out 19 batters. The other two outs were on a pop up and a foul out.

Earl, it seems, was quite a pitcher in the service, hurling in the World Wide Air Force Championships in 1958.

Oh yes, he has two brothers—John and Al—who also are pitchers and who also have joined Peri's team.

When last seen Manager Olsen was swinging from the chandeliers, screaming in a delirious voice, "We'll take on anybody!"

And the rest of the managers in the eight-team tavern league are just screaming.

YESTERDAY . Mrs. Jeanne Pandiani and 13-year-old son Bill, of 34 Belle Avenue, San Rafael, played a round of golf at Las Gallinas Course.

On the eighth tee Mrs. Pandiani got off a nifty shot that sailed high and true toward the green, 146 yards away, prompting Bill to admire: "Gee, Mom, that's a good shot." "Oh, I don't know," she frowned slightly, "I've done better."

So, you can imagine it was an astonished Mrs. Pandiani who found her ball in the cup for another hole-in-one at Las Gallinas.

SAD NEWS for the Tiburon Pelicans: Their first game in the State Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament July 29 in San Rafael will be against Nesbit Masonry team from San Jose. Nesbit won the state championship last year.

H. L. Mencken described a historian as "an unsuccessful novelist."

Barber Outshoots Musclemen, Sets Indianapolis Mark

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — You don't have to hit the ball a mile to do well on the pro golf circuit, little Jerry Barber is demonstrating again in the $50,000 Invitational "500 Festival" open golf tournament.

The 135-pounder played the first round yesterday with Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., and Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B.C., two of the longest hitters in the game, and beat both by seven strokes.

Barber wound up with a record eight-under-par 63 for the Speedway course and led the field of 149 into today's second round. It was one of the four low scores on the pro circuit this year, matching earlier cards by Tommy Bolt, John Pott and Mason Rudolph.

Palmer, the pros' leading money winner this year, and Leonard shot 70s.

Pott, former Louisiana State University links star from Shreveport, La.; Doug Ford, Crystal River, Fla., and Bob Boalby, also publicizing Crystal River, shot 66s.

Olympic Village Opened To Public

SQUAW VALLEY (AP)—The Olympic Village that housed the winter athletes here was opened to the public today as a recreation and resort center.

The lodge and 1,000-place dining hall will be operated by Robert Mills, manager of the Squaw Valley Inn, under a concession from the State Beaches and Parks Division.

2 More Marin Teams Enter State Tourney

San Anselmo's Ongaro Plumbers and the Mill Valley Merchants have joined Tiburon Pelicans and Hamilton's Air Force Base Defenders as Marin County entries in this summer's California State Semi-Pro Championships in San Rafael ,it was announced yesterday.

Semi-Pro Commissioner S. L. "Brick" Swegle of Walnut Creek announced the added Marin entries as he visited San Rafael to make plans for the annual sandlot classic scheduled to open July 29.

Swegle last week named San Rafael's Albert Field as a site for the tournament for the first time. "This," he said, "is an ideal location for the tournament and we hope to establish San Rafael as permanent site."

The commissioner said the Santa Rosa Elks Club also has indicated interest in competing in the state finals, winner of which qualifies for a berth in the National Championships in Wichita, Kansas.

Mrs. Apostoli Wins Meadow Club Golf

Mrs. Fred Apostoli of Fairfax carded an 83 yesterday to win the Meadow Club's "Charity Day" golf tournament.

The wife of the former world middleweight boxing champion led the field of 72 players, representing eight clubs, who played for the benefit of Guide Dogs for the Blind.

Net winners:

Class A—Mrs. Rinaldo Belli, 84-15—69; Mrs. William Rainey, 86-12—74; tie Mrs. Harry Hensler, 91-13—78 and Mrs. H. C. Billings, 97-19—78.

Class B—Mrs. R. J. Fuite, 94-21—73; Mrs. R. C. Wagner (California), 99-20—79; tie Mrs. John McGee, 101-21—80 and Mrs. H. C. Transue, 102-22—80.

Kid Paret Favoed To Grab Crown From Jordan Tonight

COMBINED AP & UPI

LAS VEGAS—Welterweight champion Don Jordan risks his title tonight and the smart betting moneymen say he will lose it to 20-year-old Benny "Kid" Paret of Cuba.

The nationally-televised match is scheduled for 15 rounds in Las Vegas' showy Convention Center. It goes on at 7 p.m. (PDT) with NBC doing the telecast and radio.

Jordan, a highly unpredictable young man of 25 from Los Angeles, figures to be about a 5-7 underdog in this, the third defense of the championship he won from Virgil Akins in Los Angeles Dec. 5, 1958.

The champion has been anything but impressive in his last two fights, both non-title. In December he was knocked out for the first time in some 60 fights by Federico Thompson in Buenos Aires. Just a dozen days ago, he was outpointed in 10 by unranked Ken McFarland in Baltimore.

The Paret supporters feel confident the swarthy son of a Cuban sugar cane cutter is in perfect shape, and the fact that he has never been knocked off his feet in 47 fights attests that he can take a punch.

Paret has won 30 matches, 8 by knockout, and has lost 6 and drawn 3. Jordan has won 47, 15 by KO, and has lost 13 since he began fighting professionally in 1953.

Promoter Mel Greb and Jack Doyle expect a crowd of 6,000 and a gate of $40,000 despite Jordan's upset defeat by young McFarland in a tuneup bout at Baltimore—a defeat that lessened the ticket sale.

Anthony Maceroni of Providence, R. I., president of the National Boxing Assn., arrived last night from Tokyo, and announced the NBA will insist that tonight's winner defend the 147-pound crown within 90 days against Thompson of Argentina, regardless of any private bout contract Jordan may have in case he is beaten by Paret.

Maceroni, who had witnessed the bantamweight title fight in Tokyo, added that Louis Rodriguez of Cuba, in turn, will get a shot at the winner of the Thompson title fight.

S.F. Power, Pitching Hot After Sweep Over Phils

ST. LOUIS (UPI — The San Francisco Giants brought their suddenly-successful road show to St. Louis tonight for a three-game series with the Cardinals.

The Giants increased their National League lead to a game-and-a-half over idle Pittsburgh last night as Jack Sanford blanked his former Philadelphia Phillie teammates, 9-0, on four hits.

Orlando Cepeda, Ed Bressoud and Willie Mays all blasted home runs for the Giants, who started their current road swing a game-and-a-half in first, lost it all by dropping four of six, and now are back on a three-game win streak.

San Francisco returns to Candlestick Park for 20 contests after the Cardinal series.

Southpaw Johnny Antonelli, originally scheduled to pitch last night, was to open against sixth-place St. Louis in search of his fourth win against no defeats.

Ron Kline, a righthander with a 1-3 season record, was slated for Cardinal mound duty.

JOHNNY BEANED

Antonelli was yanked in favor of Sanford yesterday when Manager Bill Rigney announced the veteran had been suffering from headaches after being hit by a ball during a pre-game workout Wednesday.

Sanford struck out five, walked only three and allowed just one man to reach third in chalking up his fifth victory against one loss.

Cepeda, who knocked in four runs during the evening, smashed his homer over the rightfield wall in the second with one on. It marked his eighth of the season.

Bressoud powered a solo roundtripper on top of the leftfield roof in the seventh.

Ruben Gomez, who relieved starter Gene Conley to start the eighth, gave up an unearned run in that frame to make it 4-0.

Then the roof caved in for Gomez and the Phillies in the ninth when Sanford doubled, Don Blasingame reached first on an error, Joe Amalfitano singled Sanford home, and Mays belted his circuit clout to clean the bases.

Kirkland sent Gomez to the showers with a triple, and then scored on Cepeda's infield safety off Humberto Robinson.

It marked the Giants' sixth straight win over the Phils this season and their fourth shutout over the last-place club.

She's truly a wife who's trying to please and she chose Jim Beam. There's a special pleasure in Jim Beam's fine taste and smoothness. (Her husband knows why: It's Beam's own 165-year old family formula that makes Beam bourbon taste so good!) And Beam is still being made today in Kentucky by the 5th and 6th generations of the same Beam family. That's why only Beam tastes like Beam . . . only Beam tastes so good.

Adcock Key Man In Spurt By Braves; O's Lose A.L. Lead

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Joe Adcock's at it again and Milwaukee's so-so Braves have come alive, winning four of their last five.

The big first baseman, bothered by platooning and a bad back has driven in seven of Milwaukee's 17 runs in that spurt while upping his batting average to .352. He was 2-for-4 and rapped across a run as the Braves scored a clinching three in the second inning last night for a 4-1 victory at St. Louis.

San Francisco padded its first place lead to 1½ games over idle Pittsburgh, flattened the Phillies again with a 9-0 victory on Jack Sanford's four-hit pitching and a trio of homers. No other games were scheduled in the N.L.

In the American League, idle Cleveland took over first by .012 percentage points over Baltimore. The Orioles slipped to second with a 2-0 loss at New York as Whitey Ford pitched a three-hitter for the fourth place Yankees. Third place Chicago climbed within a half-game of the top by beating Kansas City 3-1. Washington defeated Boston 5-2.

Adcock and winning pitcher Bob Buhl (3-2) each singled home a run in the second for the third place Braves, who trail by four games. The Braves counted 11 of their 12 hits off loser Wilmer Mizell (1-3).

The Cards scored in the fifth on Bob Neiman's first N.L. home run, one of his three hits. Buhl, the first to put away three complete games on the Braves' staff, gave up seven hits, walked three and struck out nine.

How Not To Do It

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Mrs. Carole Waldon likes to tell how her do-it-yourself-mechanic husband failed to find the trouble in his car. After about an hour or so, the husband replaced the fuel pump.

When the car still refused to start, the vehicle was towed to the garage where it was found that the gas tank was empty.

The state of Maine appropriated $50,000 in 1959 to restore eight of its 10 ancient covered bridges.

World Mark Possible In 'Mile Of Century'

MODESTO (UPI) — The "mile race of the century" goes on the stage tomorrow when Herb Elliott of Australia, Dyrol Burleson of United States and Laszlo Tabori, ex-Hungarian tangle in the 19th annual California Relays.

"It will be run in well under four minutes," says Elliott, who has been training here for the last 10 days. "But I won't make a prediction on breaking the world mark."

Elliott holds the world record of 3:54.5. Burleson holds the top U.S. mark of 3:58.6; and Tabori the Hungarian record of 3:59.6.

In addition, there will be Jim Beatty of the Santa Clara Youth Center, who beat Burleson in the National Indoor AAU Games; Bill Dellinger, holder of the U.S. 1500-meter mark; and George Larson, Burleson's "pacer" from University of Oregon.

"I'm getting in better condition every day," says Elliott, who has been working out on local golf courses. "I'm worried about the pacing in this race, however. You American runners often run such a slow first half mile.

"I have no set plan to race. I'll watch the clocking. If the first half mile is under two minutes, you can be sure that the race will be well under four minutes."

Burleson, who recorded his U.S. mark last month when he beat Stanford's Ernie Cunliffe with a mighty finishing kick, has his plans worked out.

RACE STRAGETY

"I'm going to stick with Elliott, no matter what kind of a race he runs," says the University of Oregon sophomore. "Then I hope to beat him with the finishing kick."

The mile race, while the focal point of the relays, isn't the only event. A crack 100-yard dash field includes Ray Norton, king of the sprinters; Bob Poynter of San Jose State; Rosecoe Cook of Oregon; and Doug Smith, the skinny Occidental College speedster who beat Norton at the West Coast Relays.

Chances for a fine half-mile field improved when it was announced that George Kerr of University of Illinois, will be here to run against Jim Grelle; and in the 440 against Glen Davis and Willie Williams.

TOP HURDLERS

The hurdles field looks strong, too, with Dave Edstrom, the decathlon ace, competing against Olympic king Lee Calhoun, Don Styron of Northeast Louisiana State and Chuck Cobb—all with marks around 14 seconds flat, or better.

Only Jay Silvester and Bill Nieder of the "sixty-foot-plus" club will be on hand for the shot-put.

Marin Kennel Club To Hold 1st AKC Show

The Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club will hold its first American Kennel Club licensed dog show on July 3 at Albert Field in San Rafael, it was announced today by Paul Putman, president.

"It will be an all-breed show with obedience trials and will attract exhibitors and visitors from many western states," he said. It will be held at the same time as the Marin Art and Garden Show and will enable visitors to take in the two separate attractions over the Fourth of July holiday.

The Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club is a Marin County organization devoted to the welfare, breeding, training and showing of pure bred dogs. Membership is open to interested residents of Marin, said Putman. Premium lists will be mailed to prospective exhibitors. Anyone wishing further information may write to the secretary at P. O. Box 1265, San Rafael.

X-15 Speed May Have Set Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—The X-15 rocket plane may have set a new speed mark of as much as 2,148 miles per hour in a test flight two weeks ago.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, announcing this today, said the exact speed cannot be definitely determined. It could have been only 2,074 m.p.h., not a record.

Rig Big Hit On Speaking Circuit, But Penalized For Being Too Good

HANLEY

ST. LOUIS—Bill Rigney wowed a St. Louis luncheon audience during the Giants' first 1960 visit here late last month so several new speaking invitations awaited his arrival from Philadelphia early this morning.

"The penalty for being good," said the night desk clerk of the Chase Hotel as he handed the invitations to the Giant manager. Rigney, looking at the clock over the hotel elevators, shook his head after opening the first invitation to speak at a breakfast scheduled for 8 a.m. The clock showed a few minutes after 3:30 a.m.

"Well," he said, "that does leave me some time to shave."

Rigney's popularity on the speaking circuit is due to his forthright answers, such as the one he gave last time around here when asked for his opinion of ex-Giants Daryl Spencer and Leon Wagner. Temporarily forgetting several ladies were in a corner of the audience, Rigney replied both of them gave him a pain in a certain region of his anatomy which he specified.

WHEN THE laughter subsided the blushing Rigney added, "I mean now that they are with the Cardinals and doing what they have been doing to us."

The other day in Philadelphia before a packed luncheon house, Philly fans bombarded him with questions. "How do you size up the race now?" "Same as National League races always are—another ulcer job." "What about that Candlestick wind we've heard so much about?" "One of my pitchers told me he watches the flag and if it ever droops, which it seldom does, he reaches for the resin bag until it picks up again."

GENE MAUCH, Philadelphia's new young manager, was on the same program with Rigney and he deftly sidestepped a question directed at him by inviting Rigney to take a shot at it. "Is it true sportsmanship to stall if you are one run ahead in the seventh and it starts raining?"

Mauch gave a diplomatic reply to that one before tossing it to the Giant manager who didn't hesitate a second as he said: "All I know is they never ask you 'how did you lose.' I'm afraid sportsmanship would be out the window in that situation if we were in a pennant race."

Mauch, however, did not mince words when someone asked him whether he thought Raul Sanchez, Cincinnati pitcher, was aiming at Philly batters at Crosley Field a couple of weeks ago when the Cuban righthander hit three out of four of them in one inning.

"MAYBE, but just maybe," said Mauch who raced to the mound after Sanchez hit the third Philly batter, "he didn't know where he was aiming, but I had no doubt whatsoever in my mind where I was aiming when I caught up with him."

If Mauch keeps answering questions that way he is going to find himself in the same spot Rigney is in—the recipient of breakfast speaking invitations at 3:30 in the morning.

JOE VERDUCCI TO QUIT AS GRID COACH

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Joe Verducci, a University of California quarterback who became one of the most successful football coaches in this area, will retire from coaching at San Francisco State next year.

He will remain on the staff, however, as director of athletics and will assume new administrative duties in the area of student activities.

Verducci, former mayor of Daly City and presently a councilman there, will step down after the 1960 season. Line Coach Vic Rowen will take over as head coach.

Verducci's 1959 team turned in an undefeated and untied record with 10 victories. In 10 years here at S.F. State, Verducci teams won 67, lost 26 and tied 1.

In 25 years of coaching including high school, armed forces and college, Verducci's record stands at 162 victories, 65 losses and 14 ties.

BIG WEEKEND

Ocean, Bay Races For Sail Fleet

By ALFRED MATSON

The long weekend ahead offers programs of yacht racing for those who prefer the lusty breezes of the open sea and a variegated schedule for the small boat sailors.

The ocean racing contingent will compete in the Buckner Race and the Corinthian Yacht Club Memorial Cup Race tomorrow. Boats of Cruising Club "A" and "B" will engage in the Buckner classic while those eligible to race under the "C" rating will have at it in the Memorial skirmish.

The starts will be off the Corinthian Y.C. with the Buckner entries getting the starting gun at 9:25 a.m. and the Memorial Trophy contestants at 9:35.

Richmond Y.C. will be the hub of activity for the little fellers and for all three days. Tomorrow the young salts, between the ages of 13 and 18, will battle it out for the Delmas Cup, emblematic of the junior champion for the Bay Area. There will be two races, first start at 9:30 a.m. and boats of the 110 designation will be used.

Sunday will be given over to the large fleet of many classes racing under the auspices of the Small Boat Racing Assn. This will be a two-part event, too, with a morning start at 10:30 a.m. and the second contest at 1 p.m.

Then on Monday the Small Yacht Racing Assn. will hold its first regatta of the season. This association comprises a mixture of some of the SBRA classes and the smaller classes of YRA ratings.

Prep Champs Upset By Bulldogs, 12-11

San Rafael's second place Bulldogs kicked up their heels with a cliff-hanging finish yesterday to upset the champion Drake Pirates in a 12-11 donnybrook that concluded their Marin County Athletic League baseball schedule.

Coach Jack Sims' Bulldogs, who were eliminated from the title race the previous day, gained some satisfaction by exploding for four runs in the bottom of the seventh inning yesterday. Sophomore Tom Mork's two-out single to right field scored Billy Roberts with the tying run and Rich Curry with the winning marker.

The big inning started when, with one out, pitcher-hitter Jerry Danielle singled. Then, after a strikeout, Drake ace Dave Christian lost all control and walked four consecutive batters, cutting Drake's lead to 11-10. Bob Silvey relieved Christian and was promptly greeted by Mork's game-winning blow.

Dennis Hall, pitching two hitless, scoreless innings of relief after Drake built an 11-5 lead, was winning pitcher; Christian the loser. He walked 13.

Roberts had two of San Rafael's seven hits. For Drake, Steve Anderson, Paul White and Keith Chapman each had two safeties. Jerry Ard had a triple.

Drake's win streak was snapped at eight games and the Pirates finished with an 8-2 record, San Rafael with 6-4.

In the other MCAL fray yesterday Marin Catholic capitalized on walks and errors, three hits by Art Quinn and two by Ron Blum to smash Novato, 9-2. Marin finished with a 5-5 record; Novato 3-7.

Today Tam (4-5) and Redwood (3-6) concluded the schedule at Albert Field in San Rafael.

Large Striper Run Near Alcatraz; Lake Almanor Produces Whoppers

STEVENS

BASS FLASH—A run of large bass, limits up to 25 pounds, was taken Wednesday in the Alcatraz area on Pedigo (black eel lure). Go get 'em!

WE JUST received a letter from reader Walter Laskey. We print it verbatim:

"Dear Ralph — Thought you might like to know we made our annual trip to Lake Almanor last weekend and had our usual good luck. Four of us limited with five fish each; the largest three were 20-inch rainbows. In the party with me were Chet Wilkinson, Ben Laskey and my 12-year-old son, Tim. The boy held his own by catching five nice Kojanee salmon. We caught all our fish with our Dave Davis spinners, and trailing Shysters, Flatfish and worms.

"Fishing was best at south end of lake near dam. We trolled with 50 to 75 yards of line behind the boat, using 8 and 10-pound test mono-filament line. We trolled deep after the first couple of hours after daylight.

"It's really worth the trip and there are plenty of places to rent boats if you don't want to pull your own up there."

Walter sent along a snapshot of the fish (too light for news print) and it sure made the red blood run riot in our clogged up veins.

DON'T RUSH the opener—Flycasters planning on opening the season on the Gualala River in Sonoma County (open for fly fishing only) should remember the season opens Monday, May 30, not tomorrow. The open area includes the Wheatfield and South Forks and all their tributaries, above Valley Crossing, and also includes Rockpile and Buckeye creeks and their tributaries, on the lower part of the river. No other portions of the Gualala are open during the summer season. Don't forget — FLIES ONLY. We suggest Royal Coachman, Grey Hackle with yellow body and Mosquito as three good bets.

FOR WEEKEND trouting, the following coastal county streams have been stocked with catchable sized trout by the F & G this week: Santa Cruz County streams were scheduled for the first plant of the year. Except for the San Lorenzo River, all will be open for the Memorial Day weekend.

Here is the lowdown: Upper portion of the San Lorenzo River, upstream from the dam near Lomond Street Bridge (Boulder Creek), opens Monday May 30. The lower part of the river, below the dam, is not open to summer trout fishing. Tributaries are not included in the closures. LAKE COUNTY—Lake Pillsbury; St. Helena Creek. MARIN COUNTY—Bob Tempe, Lagunitas, Phoenix lakes. MONTEREY COUNTY—Carmel River; Arroyo Seco creek (only the lower sector of the Carmel River has been stocked). NAPA COUNTY — Conn, St. Helena creeks. SAN FRANCISCO COUNTY — Lake Merced (south lake and impoundment). SAN LUIS OBISPO COUNTY—Chorro, Lopez, Santa Rosa creeks; Chorro Reservoir; Reservoir Canyon Lake. SAN MATEO COUNTY—Gazos, Pescadero creeks. SANTA CRUZ COUNTY — Corralitos, Fall, San Vicente creeks; San Lorenzo River (open May 30). SONOMA COUNTY—Valley of the Moon Reservoir.

SALMON trolling outside the Gate looks promising with some good catches reported in the past 48 hours.

Pro Net Greats To Play Benefit At Cow Palace

Northern Californians will be able to see tennis as only the world's best professionals can play it when promoter Jack Kramer brings his entire troupe into San Francisco's Cow Palace for a charity tournament, June 17, 18 and 19.

The first event of its kind ever held in this area, it will be the Quantas International, half of the proceeds of which will be turned over to the Children's Home Society of California, the state's oldest and largest privately supported adoption agency, and the Youth Tennis Foundation of Northern California, which annually takes free tennis instruction to thousands of youngsters on public playgrounds.

Competing in the tournament, a straight elimination event, will be six-time world pro champion Richard (Pancho) Gonzales and the great Australian challenger Lew Hoad along with Ken Rosewall, Tony Trabert, Frank Sedgman, Alex Olmedo, Ashley Cooper, Pancho Segura and Mal Anderson.

A departure from the usual round robin format, the tourney will assure the fan of four topflight matches on each of the first two nights, Friday and Saturday, starting at 8 o'clock, and a three match finale on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Stanford Star Honored

St. Vincent's Team Plays CYO Semi-Final Tomorrow

St. Vincent's School for Boys of San Rafael will send its high-flying baseball team against St. Francis of Sonoma tomorrow in the Northern California Catholic Youth Organization semi-final round. The winner will play San Francisco champions on June 4.

St. Vincent's warmed up for its tournament showdown by winning their 11th and 12th straight games last weekend.

Catcher Tony Martin suffered a broken jaw, but made the game-saving out at home plate in the 5-4 victory over Epiphany team of San Francisco. Martin's injury came when he blocked home plate to tag out the potential game-tying runner.

Leftfielder Roger Cordinez blasted a home run to provide the winning margin.

In St. Vincent's other weekend game the Eagles blasted previously unbeaten St. Cecelia's of San Francisco, 9-3. Pitcher Terry Claridy aided his own cause with four hits, including a home run.

Perry Signs 13th Pact With 49ers

The San Francisco 49ers signed Joe Perry in 1948 as a free agent out of Compton Junior College and today he put his name to his 13th contract with the club.

In between, the speedy fullback has set an all-time National Football League record for rushing with 7,151 yards on 1,415 rushes for a 5.1 average.

That doesn't count the two years the 49ers were in the All-American Conference. So all told, Joe the Jet has gained 8,496 yards on 1,607 attempts.

Last year at 32, Perry gained 602 yards on 139 rushes for a 4.3 average.

THEY'RE JUST WILD ABOUT HARRY

An old favorite, "I'm Just Wild About Harry," will come to life when these aquatic stars perform at the Ballet Aquacade June 4 and 5 at the Ann Curtis School of Swimming north of San Rafael. Three hundred and fifty dancers and swimmers in all will perform in the colorful event, sponsored jointly by the Ross-Kentfield-Greenbrae unit of the Junior Theater and the Marin General Hospital auxiliary. Dinelle Benjamin, left, Barbara Dondero, on the ladder, and Carole Woodworth, seated, are shown here.

2 Memorial Day Rites Slated In San Rafael

Two Memorial Day ceremonies will be held in San Rafael Monday morning.

The first will be dedication of a plaque to American veterans, to be placed on a flagpole at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery at 10 a.m.

This will be conducted by a Marin County Memorial Day Veterans Committee representing all veterans' organizations.

A. C. Pfefferkorn, committee chairman, will be in charge and will speak briefly.

Wreaths and floral tributes will be placed before the World War I veteran statue in front of the courthouse in San Rafael at 11 a.m. by Tamalpais Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Commander Bruce Mills will conduct this ceremony.

Brown Urges State Buy Cheaper Drugs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Why pay $7.90 for 100 pills when the same thing is available for $2.35?

That question was put to the State Social Welfare Board by Gov. Edmund G. Brown today.

The governor, in a letter to members yesterday, urged the board to stop paying for high-priced "name" drugs when equally effective non-brand-name products are available for less.

The board, meeting here, was urged to overhaul its policy on drug payments for welfare recipients under the medical care program.

Substitution of lower priced generic, or basic, drugs for specific—and higher priced—brand names would result in considerable savings on the state's 10 to 12 million dollar yearly drug bill, Brown said.

A Social Welfare Department spokesman estimated the savings might amount to $50,000 to $100,000 a month.

"I am sure the board will direct us to start work on it," said Carel Mulder, chief of the Division of Medical Care.

He said his division has been considering the problem, but must move slowly because some brand names contain other ingredients and are superior to the basic drugs.

But in many cases, the generic drug is just as effective, and much less costly.

"Some doctors prescribe brand names by habit," Mulder said.

He said a special committee of doctors is available to give the board and the department medical advice on which drugs to consider.

Senate Group Hears Hopps

WASHINGTON (AP)—Illinois Insurance Commissioner Joseph S. Gerber was named yesterday as having approved sales in his state by an insurance firm that later had to stop selling in California.

Stewart B. Hopps, of Belvedere, a former Wall street insurance broker, told the Senate anti-trust subcommittee Gerber was expected to approve the firm on the basis of "a great many favors granted to him" before he became commissioner.

The firm, the International Guaranty and Trust Co. of Tangiers, was forced to liquidate and pay off all claims in California.

California Insurance Commissioner F. Britton McConnell has told the subcommittee he considered this concern an "enormous fraud."

Boy Scout Session

Two representatives of Marin Council, Boy Scouts of America, will attend the 50th annual meeting of the national council in Washington, D. C., next Thursday and Friday. They are Kenneth K. Bechtel of Ross and Roy A. Ibach of Mill Valley.

J. A. Terhall of San Anselmo will be installed as chief ranger of the court, with Ralph Hendricks, William Erickson, Charles Caldwell, William Largent, Dave Lanum, Clyde Strauss, Mrs. Joe Terchera, Mrs. Merlin Lindgren, Mrs. J. A. Terhall, Mrs. Dave Lanum, Mrs. Jerry Van Soest, Mrs. Clyde Strauss and Mrs. William Largent as other officers.

Ellen E. Murphy, high chief ranger of Court Golden Gate, will head the installation team. Ralph Hendricks will be master of ceremonies.

The Iceland Krona is worth 6.14 U.S. cents.

State Demo Chiefs Act To Avert Bickering

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's Democratic Party leaders agree: No internal bickering over who'll be the party's next national committeeman until after the presidetial primary.

Instead, they announced yesterday, all efforts will be bent toward a strong showing for Gov. Edmund G. Brown at the June 7 election.

Brown and pension promoter George McLain are competing on the Democratic ticket to head delegations to the party's national convention. Vice President Richard M. Nixon is all alone on the Republican ticket. Delegates of each party name their national committee members.

The move to avert a pre-primary fight between supporters of candidates for Democratic national committeeman was endorsed by Brown and seven possible candidates, including incumbent Paul Ziffren of Los Angeles.

Also signing was U. S. Sen. Clair Engle, proposed chairman of Brown's convention delegation, which also will elect the national committeeman.

Among signers was Roger Kent of Kent Woodlands, vice chairman for Northern California.

Solid Democratic support in the election, the leaders' statement said, "is the clear and certain way to strengthen our party for victory."

All Democratic Party efforts, the group said, should be channeled into meeting "the over-all effort that the Nixon forces are now making in this state."

Alpha Delta Pi Alumnae Provide Crippled Children Campership

Alpha Delta Pi Alumnae recently held a theater party at the Tiburon Cove Playhouse for the purpose of raising sufficient funds to help a child receive speech therapy at the Crippled Children's Society Speech Center in Kentfield and to provide a camp experience for a handicapped child.

The camp, known as the Easter Seal Camp or Camp Campbell, is located near Boulder Creek in the Santa Cruz Mountains. This camp is sponsored by the Santa Cruz County Society for Crippled Children and is supported mainly by funds derived by the various county societies from the Easter Seal Drive. Service clubs, organizations and individuals also help by providing special camperships.

A full camping experience is provided regardless of the handicapping condition. The camp capacity is 100 and each year camp is filled. The staff consists of a director, an assistant and a staff of sixty specially trained counselors. Two trained nurses are on duty at all times and a doctor is within immediate call.

Although the camp is geared to the special needs of these children, nonetheless, swimming, boating, fishing, hikes, archery, cook-outs and more are offered. One cannot possibly describe in words what a camping experience of this sort means to these children.

Several members of Alpha Delta Pi have worked throughout the year in various capacities for the Crippled Children's Society. Mrs. Leo Dobbins serves as vice president and Mrs. Louis De Martini as a director. Mrs. Martin Seaver has devoted her energies to serving as a director of the Speech Center. The entire alumnae group has voluntered time to staff the Center on Tuesday mornings and chairman of this endeavor is Mrs. Dorothy Waterman, who also devotes time as a volunteer at the Marindale School. This public school for handicapped children is under the operation of the County Superintendent of Schools. Twenty-one children are enrolled at Marindale. There are others wishing to attend but facilities at this time just will not accommodate these children. It is hoped that sufficient funds will be available in the near future to expand this school plant.

The sorority is grateful that benefits held throughout the year have been successful to the extent that it can help perpetuate the fine things being done by the Crippled Children's Society of Marin.

Bayside Acres Unit Elects Officers

Other officers are Mesdames Fred Tegler, vice president; Donald Giambastiani, recording secretary; Fred Coker, corresponding secretary and Miss Loretta Pacheco, treasurer.

The club was formed five years ago by a group of women residing in Bayside Acres. All women in that area are invited to join. Dues are nominal. Meetings are held in the homes of members usually on the third Wednesday of the month. Sometimes there are pot luck luncheons. Other times refreshments are simple. Frequently a program is presented. The husbands are invited to barbecues in September and the Christmas parties.

Mrs. Clinton Heads Musical Club's Staff

Mrs. Delmar Clinton has been elected president of the Thursday Musical Club. Other officers are Mesdames Paul Daly, vice president; Edward Hindley, secretary; Eugene Demings, treasurer; Cloyd Kimball, program chairman; Carlo Caletti, tea chairman; Samuel Archibald, membership chairman; Eugene Lloyd, publicity chairman. Appointed on the nominating committee for next year were Mesdames Russell G. Smith, Herbert Brainerd and Willard Frier.

Election was held during the intermission of the recent program of the club at the Kent Woodlands home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kirschner. Mrs. Kirschner (Eva) was the piano accompanist for James Standard, bass baritone, guest artist. He has a delightful voice and a real sense of the dramatic. In his first group were Handel's "Where'er You Walk," Beethoven's "In Questa Tomba," Torelli's "Tu Lo Sai" and a French group.

In contrast four German selections by Strauss followed. Standard sang three songs by Samuel Barber: "The Rain Has Fallen," "Sleep Now" and "I Hear An Army Passing." Next he sang "O Beauty Passing Beauty" by Golde and Ware's "This Day Is Mine."

Encores were "I Am Thy Harp" by Woodman and Skiles' "You Will Know My Love."

Following the program, tea was served with Mrs. Henry Drath and Mrs. Dudley Miller in charge. White stock and gypsophila centered the tea table at which Mrs. John Lesoine and Mrs. John Wolfe presided.

A cast of 80 and many others behind the scenes, all officers' wives representing every organization at Hamilton Air Force Base, staged a show recently titled, "The Sky's The Limit."

The hilarious show, based on all phases of Air Force life (transfers, overseas assignments and children) raised $466 for the base "Gingerbread Castle" (base nursery).

Coordinator for the show was Mrs. John D. Stevensen. It featured parodies of Broadway show tunes ("There's No Business Like Sky Business" and "There Is Nothing Like A Book") sung by a chorus of 20 arrayed in orange flying suits, directed by Lt. Sheldon Sorensen.

Mrs. Charles Wells (as the husband) and Mrs. E. S. Collins (as the wife) and their "children" (Thor, Jupiter) brought many chuckles from the audience.

Following the show Mrs. Joe Lyle Jr., Officers' Wives Club president, presented Mrs. Stevensen with a bouquet of red roses and a tape recording of the show made during the dress rehearsal. Mrs. Stevensen, in turn, presented Lt. Sorensen with a record album.

THREE MEMBERS of Girl Scout Troop 119 of Kentfield display three reptiles which will be on exhibit when Girl Scout Troops from all of Marin County stage "Girl Scouts in Action Day" on June 4 at Redwood High School. Displaying the reptile and amphibian study are from left, Linda Griffin, Diane Ferrier and Shelley Anton.

'Girl Scouts In Action Day' Will Include 50 Exhibits

Girl Scout troops from all of Marin County will gather at Redwood High School gymnasium in Corte Madera Saturday, June 4, when Marin's "Girl Scouts In Action" day takes place.

The Scout event will open at 9:30 a.m. when approximately 50 exhibits will be on view. Exhibits will include a variety of Girl Scout activities such as backyard camping, puppet shows, reptile and amphibian study and sewing.

The program will commence at 10 a.m. with a salute to the flag and a color ceremony which will display flags made by Marin Girl Scouts to represent all of the countries in the world which have the Girl Scout or Girl Guide program. Flag making was done by volunteer Scouts under the direction of Mrs. Alexander Black.

Victoria Emerson of Mill Valley, representative from the Far Western Division of the United States to the Girl Scout gathering at "Our Chalet" in Switzerland, will be presented to the audience. Victoria, a Senior Scout, will leave for Europe June 25. Curved Bar awards, highest achievement in Girl Scouting, will be presented to members of approximately 11 troops. The program will be concluded by singing and folk dancing led by Mrs. Robert Rohner.

Mrs. Frank E. Duhme Jr. is chairman of the "Scouts In Action" day. Mrs. Kenneth R. Anderson and Mrs. William Diest are in charge of arrangements.

Mothers Feted By Baptist Church Group

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church of Corte Madera gave a mothers and daughters' banquet recently. The regular business meeting was dispensed with and in its stead of program was presented by Mrs. Gerald Moyer, vice president and program chairman. Mrs. Erling Finwall, president, made the address of welcome. A tribute to mothers was given by Carol Stouffer, whose mother, Mrs. Paul Stouffer, made the response.

Mrs. David P. Carroll sang "Christopher Robin Is Saying His Prayers." A group of men served as waiters and chefs. Two of the singing waiters, Ray Osborn and Reginald Chisholm, sang "Whispering Hope" and "It Pays To Serve Jesus." Rev. Gerald S. Moyer led the community singing with Don Lurd accompanying on the organ.

High point of the evening was the address by Mrs. Jesse Parker, whose husband is pastor of the Bancroft Avenue Baptist Church of San Leandro. She is director of the International and Inter-racial Fellowship Commission for the Northern Baptist Union. She also served three terms as president of the Northern California Baptist Women's Missionary Society. Taking as her subject "Gateways To Friendship," she developed the point that the Lord is the greatest friend one can have and declared "Love is the gateway to real friendship."

The decorations carried out the theme of the address. Miniature gates entwined with roses were on the tables with dolls dressed in costumes of many nations coming down the pathways.

Mu Tau Chapter Plans Night In 'Old Heidelberg'

Invitations in the form of beer steins have been sent by Mill Valley's Mu Tau chapter of Beta Sigma Phi to some 60 Marinites for a "Night In Old Heidelberg" to be held May 31 at Hamm's Sky Blue Water Room in San Francisco.

Inscribed with appropriate German phrases, the invitations requested members and their husbands and guests to meet at 6:30 p.m. for dinner and an evening of fun.

Recently members met at the home of Mrs. Byron Tardiff in Terra Linda to make favors and decorations for the event.

A tour of Marindale School was taken by the group the same day, and a check was presented to Mrs. William J. Wright, vice president of the Hearing Handicapped Society of Marin County. It will go to buy books and equipment for training the retarded deaf at the school.

The next regular meeting will be a June 7 "model meeting" in the home of Mrs. Lockabey. The program will be given by a civil defense officer.

Miss Kessey Gives Details For Wedding

The bide-elect was graduated from San Francisco State College and is teaching in the Truckee Elementary School. She recently returned from one year's study in Oslo, Norway.

3 HOSTESSES GIVE SHOWER

A surprise miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Brusatori in San Rafael for bride-elect, Kaytie Lawrence, whose wedding date to William (Bill) Haymart has been set for August 14. Co-hosting the affair with Mrs. Brusatori were Mrs. Joe Cowen and Mrs. Anna Meddaugh.

The color theme of pink and white was carried out with carnations and gladioli and two heart shaped cakes with the names of the bride and bridegroom-to-be.

The surprised guest of honor was the recipient of many gifts which had been tastefully arranged on the spinet piano so the bows and wrappings resembled banks of flowers.

Attending were Mesdames Harry Lawrence (the bride-elect's mother), C. C. Haymart (mother of the prospective bridegroom), Cecil Stauts, Howard Trumbly, Juanita James, Aubrey Ma-Haney, Elvin Andrade, Blaine Paris, Dud Smith, Edward Halloran, John Shelly, Ray Martignoli, Ralph Vossbrink, Leland McIntyre, Neal Mentjox, Helen La Fontaine, George Stempel, Melvin Hammond and Misses Janice Vossbrink, Diane Brusatori, Shirley Cowen; Joyce La Fontain and Mollye Spaelti.

Evening Section Sets Dinner Party

The concluding meeting of the term of the Evening Section of the Corte Madera Women's Improvement Club will be the annual dinner party, to be held at Tommie's in Tiburon June 1. Members will gather first at the home of Mrs. Ernest McCutcheon, 262 Oakdale Avenue, Corte Madera, for cocktails and hors d'oeuvres at 6 p.m. Hostesses for the evening are: Mesdames Donald Baldwin, Jack Mengel, Matt Schau, Philip Trau, Frank Wesel and Wilbur Williams. Mrs. Peter Fitzhugh is taking dinner reservations.

Olive P-TA Has Final Meeting

The last Olive P-TA meeting of the year was held recently in the multi-purpose room of the Novato School.

Called to order by president Ethel Marsh, the flag salute was conducted by Cub Scouts of Den 4, Pack 12, under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Reynolds.

The business meeting consisted of reading and voting on the proposed budget for the year, and setting the date for the annual fund raising school carnival, which will be Oct. 8.

The program for the evening was given by Miss Lelia Crouch, information officer of women's activities of the U. S. Forest Service. Mrs. Harold Pederson introducted Miss Crouch, who has worked in this field for several years. Her topic was, Family Vacations in the forests of California," specifically camping trips.

Miss Crouch concluded with a movie called "Woodland Manners," explaining the need for cleanliness and carefulness in and around camping areas. Simple observations of rules will keep areas clean and help prevent fires.

Refreshments of coffee and cookies were served by Mrs. Eunice Upchurch, Mrs. Ruby Wehrer, Mrs. Betty Baker, and Mrs. Dorothy Aldridge. Mrs. Jean Graham was hostess at the door.

Bridge Director Off Base With Rapid Transit Letter

A Marin director the Golden Gate Bridge has decided that he is an authority on rapid transit. As such, Leland Murphy, in a letter to the Marin Board of Supervisors, has called for an end to all rapid transit planning for Marin.

Now we have no objections to every resident and taxpayer having his say on any problem facing our county government. But in his intemperate letter, Murphy goes far beyond this, tossing his weight around as a bridge director and making some astounding statements.

"I am unalterably opposed to any rapid transit rails being laid on the bridge," Murphy declared. "While some engineers might speculate that it is engineeringly feasible . . . I am convinced that it is neither economically feasible or practical to take the calculated risk of a major disaster or traffic calamity on the bridge."

This statement comes from a man who failed to raise his voice when the Bay Area Rapid Transit District proposed to study rapid transit on the bridge. This man voted for a motion which offered the bridge district's cooperation with the crossing study and agreed to have the bridge's engineers review and report on the study when it is completed.

If Murphy is "unalterably opposed" to such a crossing and has closed his mind to reports of reliable engineers, he had ample opportunity to speak out. If he is so dedicated to economy, he could have prevented the cost of the study both by the transit district now and the bridge district later. But he didn't. He didn't say a word.

Murphy says Marin is "not now ready and will not be ready within the next decade" for rapid transit. We ask him then if we have no traffic problem, why the bridge district is preparing to spend more than two million dollars in an attempt to alleviate congestion already on the span?

Murphy charges that transit district spokesmen, including two directors appointed from Marin in a manner similar to that by which he was appointed, "have deliberately laid down a barrage of propaganda" to get a transit system "regardless of cost." This would be laughable if Murphy weren't serious.

And then he pours out propaganda himself so blatant it couldn't help but backfire. He warns the supervisors — and the people—that the transit district can levy taxes and that "the amount and levy of these taxes is out of your hands as a Board of Supervisors."

This is the pot calling the kettle black. The bridge district also can and has levied taxes "out of the hands" of the Board of Supervisors. This year, first full year of the transit district, the rate was 3.9 cents; in 1929-30, first year of the bridge district, its rate was 3 cents. Next year, tentative budget of the transit district calls for a tax rate of 1.7 cents; second year of the bridge district the tax rate was 2 cents.

The bridge district does not now and hasn't since then had a tax rate. But if the bridge were blown up by a saboteur or a Russian bomb, Murphy and his fellow directors would have to vote a tax rate, much higher, to pay off the district's bonds.

We certainly are not against careful consideration of whether Marin should be in or out of the transit district. Just 11 days ago we said in this space: "We must start making up our minds whether we are willing to really fight to keep an area rapid transit district . . . "

Murphy's gratuitous letter did have the good effect of starting a study by county officials. We hope, however, that his bull-headed bombast will not have the adverse affect of prejudicing the study before it gets under way.

And we urge the bridge director to do a better job of looking out for Marin's interests in bridge district affairs and let other appointed directors handle Marin's business in other districts.

Good Guys Vs. Bad Guys

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It seems repercussions are still resounding from the riots at the Un-American Activities Committee hearings in San Francisco.

This good guys-bad guys drama occurred when the good guys (white placard-carrying zealots who fancied themselves as a kind of a Society For The Prevention of Cruelty to Communists) tried to crash the hearings. They felt that the red dirt under the Bay Area carpet should not be exposed.

The bad guys (the dark-suited San Francisco policemen) seemed not to believe in the theory of passive resistance and would not lie down so the crowd could walk over them into the hearing room. In the resultant scuffle, about nine policemen and four of the heroes were injured.

I understand the complete script of this drama can be obtained from the U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C. by asking for the committee reports.

Guilty About S.F. Losing Population

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

When I read about the reported decline in San Francisco's population I felt somewhat guilty because I was instrumental in inspiring some folks to move to Marin. But — big cities have grown too large for the comfort of its citizens — and something has to be done! Any worthy sociologist will confirm this without blinking an eye-lash.

Anyway — this decline is one of our leading metropolitan centers only proves that mankind has not lost the art of self-improvement — without actual bloodshed.

NOTHING is lost by a decline in population in metropolitan centers. In fact, many things are gained. The police will testify to this — so will our charity organizations, not to mention the fire department!

In Marin we are lucky to be able to absorb any overflow of San Francisco — and we can continue to do so for some time. Worthy immigrants can land here with a feeling of security — and many years of a hopeful future in security and comfort! What more can mortal ask?

More Should Hear Music Festival

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The fact that tickets were necessary for admission to the school's music festival last Sunday at San Rafael High School must have caused disappointment to many who, as I did, arrived early expecting to pay at the door.

The program is too excellent and too important to limit attendance to gymnasium bleachers.

Modern sound amplification could make it possible to conduct the festival on the athletic field and thus accomodate a larger segment of the community and, incidentally, add materially to the scholarship fund.

Detergents Can Harm Children

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Recently a letter was printed in a column of a San Francisco newspaper pointing out the needless death of a child who had ingested detergent soap. A Marin County child was recently seriously ill after ingestion of detergent.

The knowledge that concentrated detergents can be harmful is apparently not well known. Most parents keep bold-faced arsenicals and cyanides locked up or out of reach of children, but leave attractive multicolored cleaners and detergents in an "easy to get at place" below the kitchen sink.

It is advisable that detergent soaps as well as household ammonia, bleaches, oven cleaners, disinfectants and a multitude of other questionable or unlabeled substances be placed safely out of the reach of children and that knowledge of their caustic and toxic action be disseminated.

Remarks Certain To Make Office Gals Tired Of Businessmen

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that business secretaries get tired of hearing:

"Oh, I don't have to worry about my secretary ever leaving me. She's wedded to her work."

"Take a letter, please, Miss Tiggly."

"Is it true the boss has bony knees, Eloise?"

"If you don't hurry back from your coffee break, you'll be late going to lunch."

"You know, for a girl your age, Miss Tiggly, your figure isn't half bad."

"I guess she really does deserve a raise, but now that she's joined the office pension plan do you think it's really necessary? She isn't likely to leave now."

"If my wife calls tell her I'm in an important conference and can't be disturbed."

"What is a pretty girl like you doing working in a great dismal swamp like this?"

"If you can get me in to see your boss in the next 15 minutes, there'll be a couple of tickets waiting for you tomorrow night at the box office of the best show in town."

"Are you going to spend all your life being a typewriter jockey? Why don't you wake up and live?"

"Hey, Eloise, the next time the boss is out of town how about letting me have a peek at my personnel file? I'd like to see what the old goat has on the record about me."

"I don't know how they taught you to spell 'accommodate' where you went to school, Miss Tiggly, but at Cornell I am sure we spelled it with only a single 'k'."

"ISN'T IT FUNNY, Miss Tiggly, how everything seems to pile up on Friday night? I hope you didn't have anything special planned."

"You were good enough to work late last night and I insist on paying for your dinner. Will a dollar cover it?"

"I hate to ask you to do a five-page letter all over again, Miss Tiggly, but I've had a couple of afterthoughts."

"NO, I WOULDN'T exactly say he was hard to work for. The 12 secretaries he had before you were probably just temperamental."

"I don't care what my husband said for you to tell me. You put him on the phone — and I'll tell him."

"You really think Miss Tiggly is attractive? That's odd. She's been with me 10 years, and I never thought of her in that light.

Most uncannily accurate putter at the Rocky Gray Golf club was a character so myopic he couldn't read the top letter on an oculist's chart without a spyglass. Asked the secret of his success on the green, he explained, "It's these bifocals I wear. When I get on the green, I see two balls, one big, one small, and two holes, one big, one small. After that it's simply a matter of dropping the small ball in the big hole."

A Parisian aristocrat who lived right next door to philosopher Voltaire and his wife overheard this notable exchange between the two one evening.

Mr. Voltaire: I disapprove of what you say, but will defend unto death your right to say it.

TREASURE LOST IN SUBWAY

A fruit store worker was robbed of the $1,400 that he had saved and borrowed to bring his wife to see her ailing mother in England.

While waiting for a subway to go to pick up plane tickets at a travel agency, three young men who had probably seen him take the cash from the bank appeared and threatened him at knife point.

In a matter of seconds this hard-working man lost the treasure that had taken two years to accumulate. Those bent on stealing were alert. They trailed him until they found him an easy prey in an unguarded moment.

Avoid jeopardizing a lifetime of good by taking unnecessary risks. Not only is your temporal welfare involved, but your eternity is at stake.

Do more than protect your own personal interests. Those who remain on the defensive seldom accomplish much good and sometimes lose the very treasure they try to defend. Follow the example of Christ who urges us to work for the good of everyone and thereby serve our own best interests.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By DONALD G. DAVIS

Two Supervisorial Candidates Making Same Political Pitches

It is being said by some of those persons who are keeping their ears close to the political sounding board that campaign thrusts being made by two candidates in two different Marin supervisorial districts are more than coincidentally the same.

The candidates are J. Walter Blair of Mill Valley and George Ludy of Inverness. Just two of their mutual targets are Mrs. Vera Schultz, incumbent supervisor from Mill Valley, and taxes.

Blair also is stirred up about the reappraisal program in southern Marin, and Mrs. Schultz has become wrapped up in that situation whether she likes it or not.

THE ASSESSMENT problem, nevertheless, is that of the county assessor, who does not, as an elected official in his own right, have to answer to the board of supervisors.

But these are good campaign issues, whether they are valid ones or not. Marin's county tax rate ranks as one of the lowest in the state, even though it includes the cost of building a new civic center.

Marin's government has been criticized as bureaucratic, as an evil that is picking the pockets of the taxpayers.

SUPERVISOR WILLIAM D. Fusselman of San Anselmo is a foe of the civic center and of bureaus. But some people think that he isn't up to date. Those people are Mrs. Schultz and other members of the board. One way to cut taxes would be to do away or curtail bureaus. The civic center can't quite be done away with, and if building it is the wrong thing to do, it isn't wholly Mrs. Schultz' fault.

The tax money for the civic center is being spent because of the actions of four members of the board. Two of them, Mrs. Schultz and James Marshall of Tomales, are the only ones of the four who are running for election June 7.

Blair and Ludy contend that Mrs. Schultz has been leading the other members of the board, save Fusselman, around by the nose. Marshall denies this. So does Mrs. Schultz. Mrs. Schultz certainly tries to persuade persons to her point of view. So does Fusselman. And they agree on very little.

SO IT APPEARS Blair and Ludy have the same line of attack. Taxes, appraisals, the civic center and bureaus, such as that of county administrator, make good campaign issues, real or imagined.

So far, at least on the surface, Frederic Kerr of Ross and Harvey W. Killian of Greenbrae, Fusselman's opponents, do not appear to be caught in this web of circumstances.

I do not live in any of the three contested districts. I live in Walter Castro's district, and were he up for election I would vote for him, although I might not see eye to eye with him on every issue.

IF I LIVED in either Mrs. Schultz' district or Fusselman's, I might be moved to vote against them because they hardly ever are on time for supervisors' meetings. But I don't live in their districts and I don't have to consider whether I would vote for them.

Ludy contends that county government expenses can be trimmed by deleting the administrator, and says this office has not saved money. Marshall says it has.

There are those who link the thinking of Ludy, Blair and Fusselman, although certainly there has never been any openly public demonstration that this is true. County Clerk George Jones and former assessor George Hall are said to fall into this picture, too.

But when two such persons as Fusselman and Mrs. Schultz set off brush fires at supervisor meetings, it is quite impossible not to see the smoke from them puffing out of other cracks and fissures in Marin's political volcano.

WALTER LIPPMANN

Our Foreign Ministers Could Confer At United Nations Meeting

WASHINGTON — We must begin by reminding ourselves where we are now. Curiously enough, if we look behind the uproar to the record itself, we find that both sides proclaim their desire to resume negotiations. We find, too, that the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A. have both made substantial concessions, designed to make possible a resumption of negotiations.

It won't be at all easy to resume negotiation. What has occurred is a break-down not of diplomatic relations but of diplomatic communications between Moscow and Washington. The difficulties of restoring communications, although they are not insuperable, are very great indeed, and until there is communication there can be no negotiation.

IT IS EVIDENT that Khrushchev's timetable — a summit meeting in six or eight months — is quiet unrealistic. He does not seem to understand the mechanics of the American political system.

Six months hence Eisenhower will still be President and the President-elect will, of course, have no power to do anything.

Eight months hence, the new President will just be taking office, and it is inconceivable that he would or could go to a summit meeting before he had organized his administration and entered himself into negotiations to prepare for a meeting.

It is, I think, a conservative estimate to say that negotiations at the summit, if they are ever resumed, cannot take place much before the summer of 1961.

THERE MAY BE some who will rejoice in this prospect. But the sober and responsible view is, I submit, that with the failure, or at least the indefinite postponement of summitry, there is an urgent need to restore communications through quieter and more secured and protected means. For the United States and the Soviet Union cannot take the risks of being unable to communicate effectively for a long period of time. This would produce intolerable risks of miscalculation which would be a threat to all mankind.

Communication will have to be restored by quiet diplomacy in which our allies will have to play a principal part. This could, perhaps, be supplemented by making a new use of an old idea.

As originally conceived when the charter of the United Nations was written, the Security Council was to be attended regularly by the foreign ministers themselves.

BUT NOW, it might do much good if they did come once a month for at least a few days. Then it would not be necessary for them to have so many special meetings in various parts of the world.

MORE THAN 40 YEARS OF TEACHING — Mrs. Margaret Redding presides over junior high mathematics class at Davidson School — as she has been presiding over just such classes for more than four decades. But after June 16, there'll be no more of this for Mrs. Redding. She is retiring. (Independent-Journal photo)

4 DECADES OF MATH

Retiring Teacher Has Praise For Kids Today

Mrs. Margaret Redding of 339 Paloma Avenue, San Rafael, who has been teaching more than four decades, will retire at the end of this school year.

For 40 years she has been in the San Rafael school system. She says of the present generation of young students: "They can hold their own against anybody."

A teacher of mathematics the past six years in Davidson School's seventh and eighth grade she taught the same subject when the grades were located at E Street School.

Mrs. Redding, wife of Charles P. Redding, who was for 23 years foreman of the furniture factory at San Quentin prison, started teaching in San Rafael in 1926.

Citing how times have changed and how San Rafael has grown, she said the first graduation class at E Street School after she began teaching there had 50 members. This year Davidson will graduate approximately 270 and Santa Venetia School will have 100 in the eighth grade graduating class.

Mrs. Redding was born in San Rafael and was graduated from San Rafael High School. She received a college degree from San Francisco State Teachers College and first had a classroom in Marysville, where she taught nine children in nine different grades.

Later she taught at the old one-room Dixie School north of San Rafael, and then was principal of Tiburon Grammar School. At Dixie "they would send a few boys down from St. Vincent's School for Boys so I could keep the school open. Then they took them away and I finished the year out at St. Vincent's," she said.

Mrs. Redding knows her numbers and her students, but once when she attempted to figure out the total number of students she had taught during her life she gave up after she reached 5,000.

When she goes into banks in San Rafael, where people have to know how to add and subtract, "it's like old home week." In the stores, too, there are a number of young business people who have learned their way around in fractions and multiplication tables from Mrs. Redding.

Asked if children today are softer and more likely to spurn school, she replied crisply, "No. There are more children in school these days, but I think the percentage of failures hasn't grown. Most youngsters love school these days. The great majority of people I've taught go on through higher learning. They have a bigger fund of outside knowledge now. There are more opportunities for them."

Mrs. Redding has no special retirement plans. "We'll just take of whatever comes up," she said. Underscoring her attitude toward her profession, Mrs. Redding said she has never gone in much for hobbies. "But I've done a lot of knitting."

And not dropping a stitch, she declined to tell one of the most important figures about herself: Her age.

Lions To Assist Student Exchange

The Larkspur Lions Club will present a check for $650 to the Redwood High School American Field Service exchange student committee at an awards assembly at the school on June 16.

The money will go toward financing a trip abroad for a Redwood student and toward bringing a student from overseas to attend the high school next year, according to Robert Kreig, Lions Club fund committee chairman.

REPORT #2
THE RECORD SPEAKS ABOUT
CLEM MILLER

For the first time the First District is receiving the recognition and the representation it so long deserved. Clem Miller, who won our First District with his forthright pledge of action, has earned the acclaim of lawmakers for his accomplishments in behalf of our district and our country.

Because housing and allied industries are crucial to First District economy, Clem Miller won assignment to the Banking and Currency Committee, focal point of housing legislation. Says Congressman Al Rains, Housing Subcommittee Chairman: "California can be proud to have sent such a dedicated and able public servant to Congress."

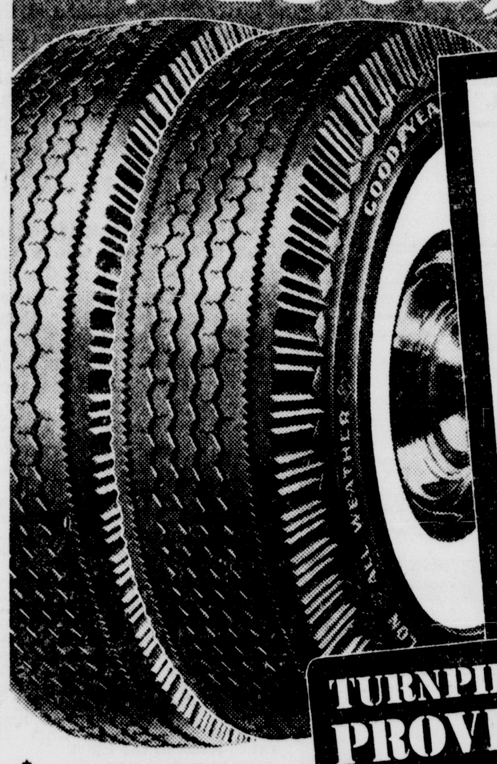

Clem Miller's stature was recognized by appointment to the 9-man executive committee of the influential Democratic Study Group . . . only freshman congressman so honored. Congressman Lee Metcalf, Chairman, said: "Clem's drive and willingness mark him as a congressman with a bright future."

During his first 16 months in Washington, Clem Miller introduced 42 pieces of legislation; 14 of these are now law. Colleagues know him as a freshman who secured passage of over twice as many bills as the average of all California congressmen. Says California's U.S. Senator, Clair Engle: "Clem Miller's record reveals a workmanlike knowledge of First District and National needs—and the statesmanlike qualities to get problems solved..." Let's add the First District's testimonial to the Miller action record—with a Clem Miller vote on June 7!

Today is Friday, May 27, the 148th day of the year, with 218 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1818, Amelia Bloomer, American feminist, was born.

In 1819, Julia Ward Howe, leader of antislavery and woman suffrage movements and author of the lyrics of "Battle Hymn of the Republic," was born.

In 1933, the Century of Progress Exposition opened in Chicago.

In 1935, the United States Supreme Court ruled unanimously that the National Industrial Recovery Act was unconstitutional.

In 1937, the Golden Gate Bridge over San Francisco Bay was opened.

A thought for today: Marian Evans Cross, who wrote under the name of George Eliot, said in "Impressions of Theophrastus Such": "Blessed is the man who, having nothing to say, abstains from giving in words evidence of the fact."

A NEW TOWER FOR STATION KTIM

Charles Walsh, electronics engineer, works on the antenna lead-in at radio station KTIM's tower on the Smith Brothers Ranch north of San Rafael. The 200-foot tower was built on the site, and yesterday the transmitter and the building that housed it at the College of Marin was moved to the new site and placed on a prepared concrete foundation. The old tower will be dismantled and sold. The station was off the air from 1:05 to 5:30 p.m. Station manager Hugh Turner said cooperation from the many utility company personnel needed in the changeover was "marvelous." Revolutionary Changes In Schools Seen

By MICHAEL FALLON

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Californians are witnessing in 1960 a near-revolution in their public schools.

Within recent months, a philosophy of education in force for nearly 30 years has been quietly but decisively overthrown at Sacramento.

In simplest terms, the scholars are routing the "social adjusters."

The route is by no means complete, but every major policy decision announced here this year has, without exception, represented a victory for advocates of "basic" education. For instance:

1. The State Board of Education has approved the outline of a far-reaching change in the training of new teachers. The proposal, yet to be worked out in detail, requires prospective elementary school teachers to major in an academic subject. It excludes the methods-heavy specialty of education. It requires local districts to give formal approval before high school instructors may teach a subject they have not majored in at college.

2. Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, called recently for a study of uniform tests for all California students at specified grade levels. This proposal is highly disputed for it implies that local schools, as well as their students, may eventually be assessed.

3. Drastic experiments are under way in the teaching of mathematics, science and foreign languages, and a new, tighter social studies curriculum has been unveiled for elementary schools and high schools.

These changes have come about quickly, Simpson and other educational leaders agree, largely because of aroused public concern for the schools during the past few years.

Post-Sputnik public clamor over the schools was first met in Sacramento with an answer dearly favored by politicians of both parties. A citizen's commission was appointed in 1958 to study the problem and report to the legislature.

The results were surprising. The commissioners appeared to spur the Department of Education into action even though they bogged down after a series of searching public hearings, in completing their report.

Almost immediately after the commission announced it would look into teacher training, the department bundled together five years of study and produced its own proposal for credential reform.

On Jan. 23, 1959, the commission learned that this was acceptable Department of Education thinking:

"The integrated program and the integrated curriculum are but the means to an end—the integrated individual in the integrated society."

Now consider this department statement, presented this month to the State Board of Education in an effort to promote the new social studies curriculum:

"The dissipation of time and the dilution of the regular program from such sources ('knowing yourself,' 'planning a career,' 'family living') has so badly weakened the social studies that youths are being graduated from high schools without an adequate grounding in basic information about the peoples and nations of the world."

To anyone with a wet finger, the wind has abruptly shifted direction in California's Department of Education.

Mother Should Take Time To Hold Baby While Feeding From Bottle

"My husband and I argue," a mother writes, "over how to feed our new baby boy. I could not produce enough milk, so our baby eats from a bottle. He is our first child. My husband says I should sit down, hold the baby, hold the bottle, and personally supervise every swallow.

"My mother says that when I was tiny she frequently propped my bottle in the corner of my crib and let me eat alone. I want to feed our baby that way, especially when I'm busy. Would it be such a terrible mistake?"

I'm afraid it would be wrong. Some mothers do prop up the bottles and let their wee ones slurp alone. When the milk comes too fast their babies choke. Some have choked to death. At best they have to gulp and swallow big air bubbles.

When you're holding your baby you can protect him. When you are away, you can't.

There's another risk. You deprive your wee one of the feelings of comfort and security he gets from being held. The basic parts of his personality are being formed now. He needs to learn that you love him. He needs to sense that he is safe in the world and he needs to feel wanted. He gets good feelings from being close to you and being held and loved. He can't get those feelings when you're in another room.

Eating should be the happiest part of his day.

I know you are busy. There isn't time to do everything. I also know that you need rest periods. Your body is making some dramatic readjustments. It will help you physically to sit down a few minutes several times a day. So at baby's mealtime, sit down. Put your feet up. Cuddle your baby and give him his bottle. Talk to him. Take a few deep breaths and relax.

You won't be sorry.

(Q) "I'm pregnant for the first time. My husband keeps making wisecracks about it. Privately he is kind and loving. But in public he seems cynical. Does this mean he'll be a bad father?" —D.D.E.

(A) Probably not. Many men think it's smart to make wisecracks. But after their babies are born, their instincts take over. They become devoted fathers.

Seminary Fund Aide Named

J. Earl Coke, vice president and agricultural representative of Bank of America in San Francisco, has been named chairman of the memorial gifts committee for the $4,000,000 San Francisco Theological Seminary advancement fund, Charles T. Gray, general campaign chairman, announced today.

Coke, who in 1953 and 1954 served as assistant secretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and director of the Commodity Credit Corp., will be responsible for solicitation of larger donors to the fund in 12 western states.

The campaign is to provide funds for new buildings to enable the San Anselmo seminary to double its enrollment by 1970.

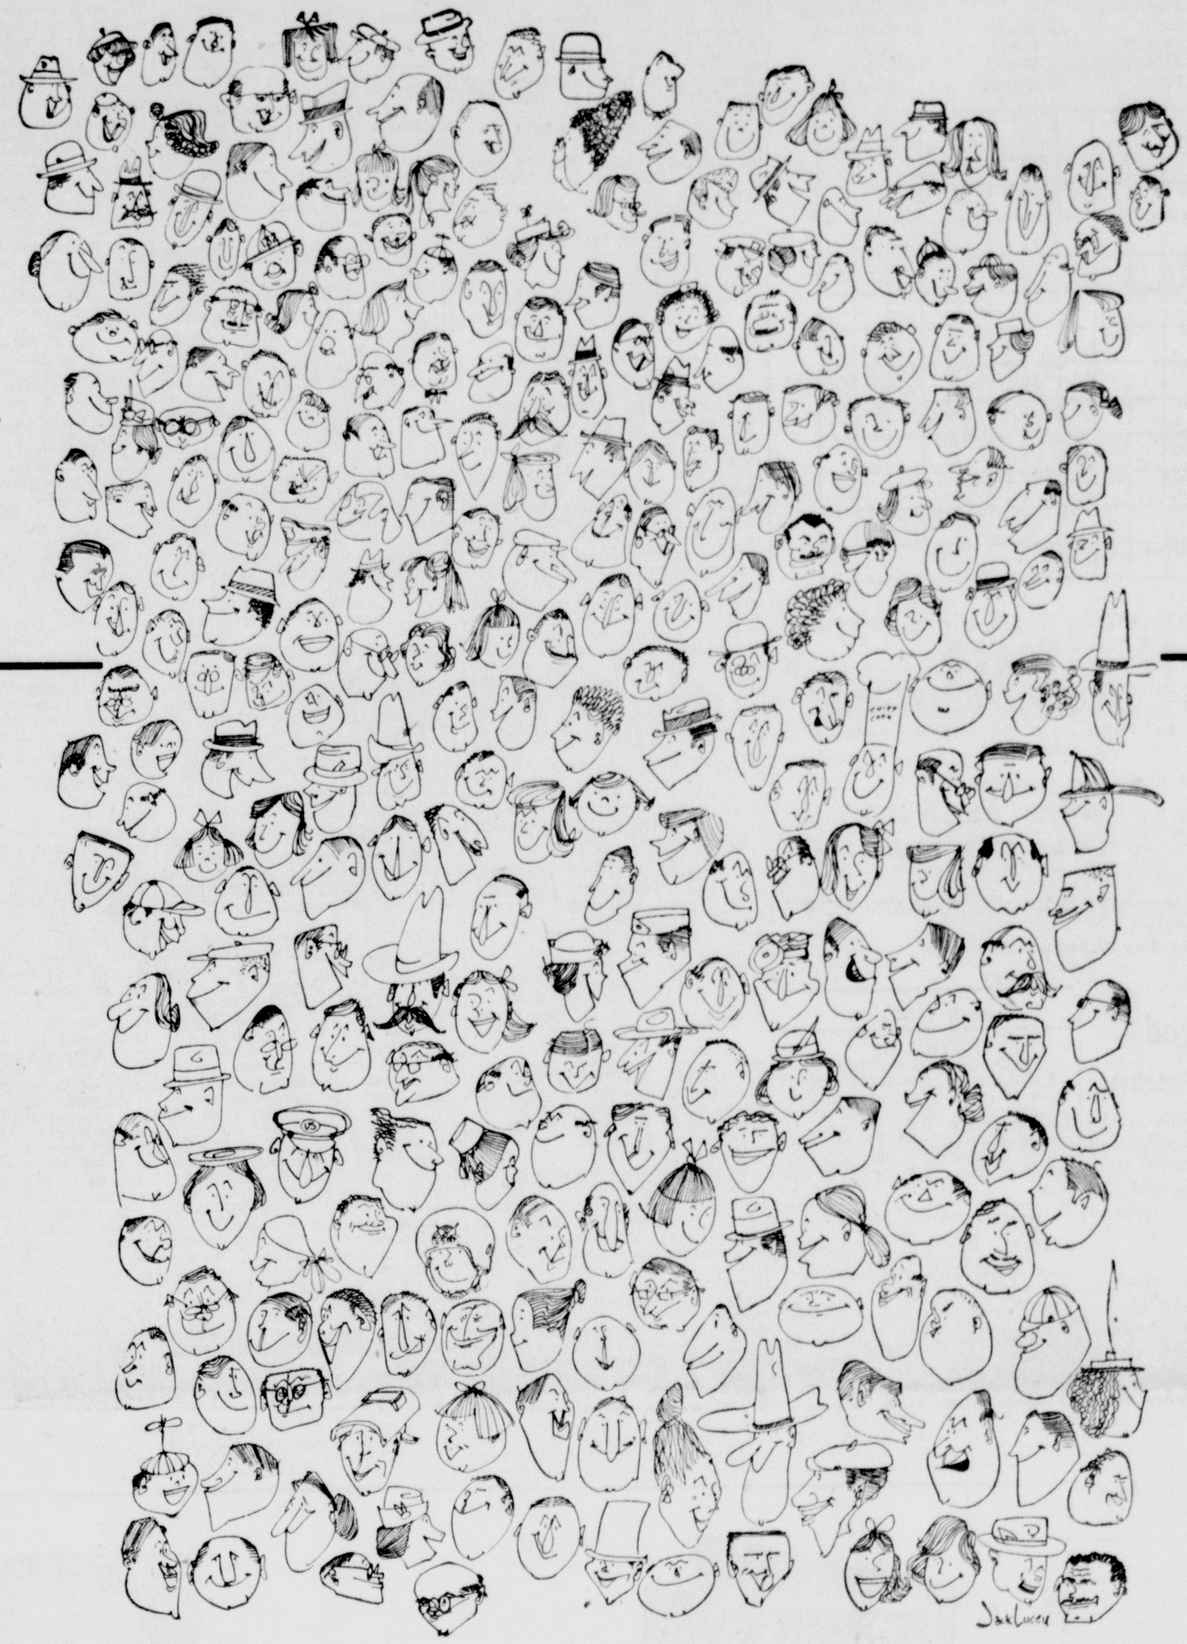

Killers Ask Stay

VENTURA (UPI)—Luis Moya and Augustine Baldonado, convicted of strangling a pretty bride at her jealous mother-in-law's behest, have asked a stay of their June 17 execution date.

Elizabeth Duncan, convicted of murder with them and also scheduled to die on that date, did not join in the request. The two men are appealing to the U.S. Supreme Court.

A jury convicted Mrs. Duncan, 55, of hiring the two laborers to kill Olga Duncan, 30, wife of her son, Frank, in 1958.

PROFILE OF THE WEEK — His name is German. But Dutch Koenig is as much Spanish as he is German. His mother's ancestors owned much of what is now the San Anselmo-Fairfax area when it was the vast Rancho Canada De Herrera. Dutch, himself, is pretty much of a modern-day Marin institution. Owner of one of Marin's most popular pubs, he numbers his acquaintances in the hundreds. And he always has time for a friendly chat with customers who drop in at his San Rafael bar. You'll read about Dutch and how he has become one of Marin's most popular citizens in an article written for tomorrow's Marin Magazine by Independent-Journal reporter Donald G. Davis.

It's A Beauty

"That's what I thought when I first saw Dad's new car! Well, it wasn't exactly new. It was really a used car. But what a swell one! Dad saw it advertised in the I-J want ad pages. He says it's a good, safe, dependable car. And he says he really got a good buy. Dad always reads I-J Want Ads . . . He solves lots of problems that way. Say, why don't you?"

DECORATIVE BUT PRACTICAL

Children of Mehlem, West Germany, find a practical use for decorative concrete structure in front of their school. Children of the school selected the design.

Ex-Fellow Pupils To Honor Plucky Sufferer From Polio

A delegation of students from San Rafael High School will visit the California Rehabilitation Center in Vallejo Tuesday night to honor a plucky sufferer from polio who is to be graduated with them next month.

He is Charles (Chuck) Dalton, son of an Air Force sergeant until recently stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base and now serving in Germany. Born in Napa, Charles began to live in Novato with his parents in 1955.

For the past eight years he has been conducting an up-hill fight against polio, contracted when he was 10 and leaving him with paralysis of both arms, both legs, and muscles having to do with sitting and breathing. For a time it was necessary for him to be in an iron lung at all times.

Eventually he was treated at the California Rehabilitation Center and other centers.

eH improved to the point where he could come out of the lung, and became able to feed himself and sit in a wheelchair.

Two years after the attack, he was able to return home. Mrs. Gertrude Hines of San Rafael, a home teacher with San Rafael High School, aided him with his school work.

He underwent two operations at Rancho Los Amigos Polio Center in Los Angeles last year. Surgeons fused joints of his spine and changed his back into a solid piece of bone. This prevents twisting body or neck but allows Charles to sit and work in his wheelchair again.

For the past year he has been in a plaster body jacket from knees to neck and he must remain in it for about three more months.

Meanwhile Charles has been able to work towards high school graduation, studying with a home teacher.

He plans for college, probably at San Jose State, intends to be a writer and is interested in art as a hobby.

School Pool Will Be Open Sunday, Monday

With warm, clear weather in prospect, the San Rafael Recreation and Park Department announced today that the high school swimming pool will be open for recreational swimming from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday and Monday (Memorial Day).

The pool will not be open tomorrow.

Admiral Richard Byrd was 30 years of age when he first solo piloted a plane.

Bev. J. Whitlow of San Rafael was elected state director, Sesto F. Lucchi of San Rafael, vice president; Fred L. Ottoboni of San Rafael, secretary; Peter Karpa of Mill Valley, treasurer, and Ward H. Austin of Larkspur, president of the College of Marin, member at large of the executive committee.

Ethelyn Ann Hansen of San Rafael, president of 1959-60, automatically becomes a member of the executive committee for the 1960-61 term.

Brown Names Vehicle Smog Control Board

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmond G. Brown yesterday appointed members to the state's new Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board, charged with setting standards for anti-smog devices which eventually will be required on all California autos.

The board, which consists of Brown's nine appointees and the state directors of public health, agriculture, motor vehicles and the highway patrol, will set the criteria for anti-smog exhaust control devices.

Its criteria will guide testing laboratories which will examine devices offered by manufacturers. Within a year after at least two devices have been certified by state examiners, all new cars in California will have to be equipped with one.

Within three years, all cars, new and used, will have to be so equipped, except in counties where boards of supervisors exempt used cars.

Brown's appointments, subject to confirmation by the State Senate, are:

Dr. Arie J. Hagen-Smit, professor of bio-organic chemistry at the California Institute of Technology.

Dr. Julius B. Askew, health and air pollution control officer for San Diego County.

Theodore Merrill of Long Beach, vice president of the Western Conference of Teamsters.

Dr. John T. Middleton of the University of California at Riverside, representing agriculture.

John C. Spencer, San Francisco attorney and general manager of the California State Automobile Assn.

Dr. John Saunders, dean of the University of California Medical School.

Harold V. Thompson, Fresno attorney.

Mrs. Michael C. Levee Jr., representing, with Dr. Saunders and Thompson, the public.

James Allen, vice president and assistant to the chairman of the board of Northrup Aviation Corp.

FILM ROUNDUP

One Of Top Foreign Films Shows At Lark

By LES DARD

The weekend films:

RAFAEL THEATER

Visualize Tony Curtis as an assistant professor. He is busy kissing a pretty girl student. Enter Janet Leigh, his wife, into his chemistry lab. She blows up, natch.

Determined to save his marriage, Tony asks his pal, TV scripter Dean Martin, for an alibi. The result: Tony is an undercover FBI agent and that kiss was in line of duty.

This comic invention is the kickoff for some light-hearted antics titled "Who Was That Lady?" which result in the re-establisthment of happy relations in the Curtis-Leigh apartment.

But before the last reel, Tony and Dean wind up in some real shennanigans with real spies. And there's a moment of pure comedy when Martin and Curtis bravely sing "America the Beautiful" while flooding one of the sub-basements of the Empire State Building under the illusion that they're sinking a Russian submarine.

This film opens Sunday on the San Rafael screen.

LARK THEATER

"The 400 Blows," now showing in Larkspur, is probably one of the best foreign films of the year.

Made in France, it follows a small boy into a whirl of misfortune that promises to develop into a ruined, futile life. And the Paris you see is not the romantic city; rather, it is a city indifferent to the anguished needs of a bewildered lad (Jean-Pierre Leaud).

The cameras focus on this one urchin who is baffled at every turn as he tries to overcome his first fearful mis-step.

The most masterful sequence comes when the boy runs away from reform school. He finally reaches the sea; there is nowhere else to go. He turns back to face life—and the audience. In that second, the camera is stopped; a stunning moment in which the adult world stands accused.

When I left the preview, I noticed people hiding tears. I don't see that very often.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"The Wind Cannot Read" is an unabashed romance (four handkerchiefs).

Dirk Bogarde is the handsome, gallant hero who has been sent to India to learn Japanese. There, midst spectacular surroundings, he falls in love with a teacher, Yoki Tani, a beautiful Japanese girl whose father has defied the government and fled to India.

New Delhi markets, the Taj Mahal and elephant rides are the backdrop of this bittersweet romance.

This movie, opening Sunday on the San Anselmo screen, was the British entry in the recent San Francisco film festival.

MARIN THEATER

Director John Ford's latest venture is titled "Sergeant Rutledge" (Technicolor), and like most Ford efforts, it's offbeat frontier adventure. It opens Sunday on the Sausalito screen.

The time is right after the Civil War. Woody Strode, in the title role, is a Negro noncom suspected of assault and murder. His defense counsel (Jeffrey Hunter) believes him innocent. But the citizens of Fort Linton are in a hanging mood. They crowd the courtroom, ropes in hand, waiting for the decision they want: Guilty!

The story is unfolded in a series of flashbacks and the suspense mounts with the evidence.

Also in the cast: Billie Burke, Constance Towers and Juano Hernandez.

MOTOR MOVIES

Filmed in the Monterey area, "A Summer Place" (Technicolor) is about six people involved in intense adult and adolescent passions. They are: Richard Egan, Constance Ford, Dorothy McGuire, Arthur Kennedy, Sandra Dee and Troy Donohue.

The film, opening Sunday, deals with messy divorces, second marriages and the problem of young love which has gone "too far."

NOVATO THEATER

"The Wreck of the Mary Deare" (color, CinemaScope) is a superb movie.

Eric Ambler scripted this action-filled sea story, based on a novel by Hammond Innes, about a strange sea disaster. It opens Sunday.

Heading the cast are Gary Cooper and Charlton Heston, Oscar winner as best actor.

A tense underwater finale also contributes to the excellence of this drama.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

William Holden won an Oscar for his performance in "Stalag 17," the comedy-drama now at the Playhouse.

A very funny film, a good bit of it deals with the efforts of captured Air Force men to amuse themselves in a German prison camp.

Holden plays a promoter type suspected of being a stool pigeon.

The co-feature is "A Place In the Sun," starring Monty Clift and Elizabeth Taylor in the Theodore Dreiser story (An American Tragedy). This one won an Oscar for best direction.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"North by Northwest" (color, wide screen) is an Alfred Hitchcock espionage-comedy-drama.

Cary Grant stars as the kidnap victim of a gang of spies whose mastermind, James Mason, thinks he's a U. S. agent on their trail. Trouble is, U. S. counter-espionage has created such a shadow to trick the agents.

Eva Marie Saint is Cary's heart interest . . . she's also a spy, and then mistress of Mr. Mason.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Big Fisherman" (Panavision, color) is adapted from Lloyd C. Douglas' sequel to "The Robe." It relates, in sentimental terms, the story of Simon, the fisherman of the Sea of Galilee, and his conversion into Peter the disciple and pious fisher of men.

This fictionalized history — opening Sunday on the Mill Valley screen—has been resplendently costumed, flavored with you know what in the DeMille manner. The cast: Howard Keel, John Saxon, Susan Kohner, Herbert Lom, and Martha Hyer.

IN COMEDY — Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis co-star in "Who Was That Lady," opening Sunday at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael. Also featured is Dean Martin.

Mendelevium is the heaviest chemical element with an atomic weight of 256.
